

LEGISLATORS DEADLOCK ON PURPOSE OF SESSION

Senate Adopts Tax Amendment But Will Reject Bill to Provide Reward for Dynamiters Sent up by the Assembly.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 3.—If there is a deadlock between the Senate and Assembly when they meet tomorrow in the second day of the extra session, it will be because the Assembly will recede from its position as expressed this afternoon. It will be a position wherein the Senate has adopted its Senate constitution amendment No. 1 and sent it to the Assembly against the Assembly's adopting two resolutions, one providing for a reward of $10,000 for the apprehension of the alleged dynamiters of the Los Angeles Times building and another expressing sympathy for General Otis and the families of the victims.

It is this that the two houses stand when adjournment was taken tonight until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Senate had adopted the amendment and it was up to the Assembly to do the same. There were not enough votes on hand when the Assembly met tonight that were favorable to the measure to insure its passage, and an adjournment was taken.

On the other hand the two resolutions regarding the Times and Otis were before the Senate and the finance committee of that body decided that the Senate could not pass the bill. The finance committee introduced by Assemblyman Schmitt provided for a reward for dynamiters, and there had not been proved that there had been any dynamiting. The next point was for the purpose of passing upon the constitutional amendment and did not allow of any appropriations of money such as is provided for in the resolution. The finance committee will submit a substitute for the two resolutions and this will offer condensation to General Otis and the families of the victims but will not provide for a reward.

This, it is said, will cause a deadlock between the two houses, as the Assembly is in a temper to turn down the constitutional amendment.

Just what will be done tomorrow is problematical, as there will be a strong feeling in the Assembly against the amendment passed by the Senate.

The Senate has voted in favor of the amendment in which there were three worlds necessary to take away the uncertainty found in the amendment as now presented. The Assembly has worked fairly for this, but it was not sent to that body until after 6 o'clock tonight. When recess was taken until 8 o'clock, it was thought that the resolution could be adopted at once when the lower body met. The fact that the two resolutions adopted by the Assembly did not receive favorable consideration made a change in the feeling of the assemblymen and many of them remained away from the hall. This caused a feeling of uneasiness among the other members and an adjournment was had until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

If there is an agreement between the two houses tomorrow morning and the amendment is adopted, it will be up to the Assembly to at once adopt Assemblyman Schmitt's resolution No. 4, which provides for the punishment of the outlaws and it will not be upon the bill with the new one.

Both houses had lively times today, the report of the joint committee which passed upon the legal phases of the constitutional amendment coming in for discussion. This called for addition of the measure as presented, and there were amendments which touched upon the "uncertainty" of the language in the original amendment. This was fought but the committee report was finally adopted.

MILITIAMEN CLIMB OVER THE HILLS

Get Lessons in Finding Their Way Through the Chaparral.

CAMP ATASCADERO, Oct. 3.—Under a sweltering sun, the California National Guard spent their first day of instruction on the flat in the morning and in climbing over the hills in the afternoon. It was hard work and the men who fail to sleep tonight must have an uneasy conscience.

The infantry regiments drilled in battalions in close order in the morning and were given simple problems in concentration and outpost duties in the afternoon. At least one battalion became lost in marching through the chaparral to concentrate at a point near Meyers, and their brethren are merry tonight therefore. That more were not lost is an evidence that the officers know how to read maps and march by them. The country in this vicinity is very thickly wooded and rugged.

The National Guard signal companies were present through two instruction periods by Lieutenants Beck and Prosser, while Major J. A. Gaston, assisted by Lieutenant Colonel Leisinger, gave the three cavalry troops practical instruction in patrol, reconnaissance and messenger work.

The test ride was concluded today without a single officer being found deficient in stamina.

The Eighth and Thirtieth regular infantry were sent out this morning to solve the old problem of brushing aside an inferior mounted force without being delayed. This is one of the most valuable things for a commanding officer to know when to deploy. Many battles have been lost because the superior force allowed itself to be held by a handful of cavalry while the cavalry's infantry supports seized the time thereby gained to interfere. Infantry regiments thought themselves pitted against such odds today. The result was that the cavalry in at least one case succeeded in stopping the infantry and causing it to deploy.

ARBITRATION BOARD ON BORDER DISPUTE

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 3.—Judge Walter B. Grant, chief counsel for the government in the Chamizal zone dispute between the United States and Mexico, has been named to the arbitration board. The dispute involves 600 acres of land, including one-fifth of the area of the city of El Paso.

The property valued at about $1,000,000 and about 5,000 persons are affected.

SAN JOSE SHOWS 28,946 POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Population statistics as enumerated in the thirteenth census were made public tonight for the following cities:

San Jose, Cal., 28,946, an increase of 7,440, or 34.6 per cent over 21,506 in 1900.

Chattanooga, Tenn., 44,604, an increase of 14,450, or 47.9 per cent over 30,154 in 1900.

Lincoln, Neb., 43,725, an increase of 28,047, or 64.2 per cent over 15,678 in 1900.

FRAUD SHOWN IN REPAIR VOUCHERS

Timber Is Charged for in Bill Against an All- Steel Car.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Harold A. Simms, who has been in charge of the investigation into the records of the Illinois Central Railroad, was a witness against Frank B. Harriman, Charles L. Ewing and J. M. Taylor, former Illinois Central officials before Municipal Judge Bruggemann today.

He took the witness stand upon the abrupt conclusion of the examination of Henry C. Ostermann, former president of the Ostermann Manufacturing Company.

Simms testified that he had made payments of money to Illinois Central car inspectors while he was superintendent of the Monahan Car Company. Records were presented by Simms which showed for the repair of Illinois Central car No. 104954, a bill of $89.56 was rendered. Among the items in this bill were three for twenty-four feet of pine and 110 feet of oak lumber.

"As per No. 104954 was an all-steel car," said Simms, "such material as pine and oak could not have been used in its repair."

MASSACHUSETTS AT CRISIS IN POLITICS

Three Candidates Want the Democratic Nomination for Governor.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—The principal game to be played in Massachusetts this week is that of politics. Democratic and Republican delegates will gather here Thursday to select standards and banners for the November election, while congressional conventions will be held in the fourteen districts.

Governor Draper and four state of the holders will be renominated at the Republican convention. Attorney General Dana Malone retires to private practice, but there is no opposition to District Attorney James M. Swift of Pull River for the sixth place on the state ticket. Harmony is expected to prevail.

That the Democratic convention which meets at the same time in Fall will be less tranquil was generally conceded today, as there are three well-known candidates for the gubernatorial nomination. The Massachusetts Democrats have never felt so confident of victory as this year.

Last week's primary election did not settle the fight between former Senator James H. Vahoy of Watertown, Congressman Eugene N. Ross of Boston, and former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hamilton, also of Boston. All three have expressed a desire to lead the party this year, although Hamilton and Vahoy have been a trifle more ardent in their pursuit of delegates than Ross.

Both parties will select the remaining eleven congressional candidates within three days, but the Republican Fourth district convention is the only one attracting attention. The two candidates, Harry L. Pierce of Lomaxton and W. H. Wilder of Gardner are still claiming a majority of the delegates chosen at Wednesday's primaries.

MAYOR GAYNOR RESUMES CHARGE IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Mayor William J. Gaynor is again the active head of the New York City government. He came to the city hall and took hold of the executive reins today for the first time since August 9th, when his intended vacation trip to Europe was cut short by a bullet from the pistol of James J. Gallagher, a discharged city employee, who shot the mayor on the deck of the steamer on which he was about to depart.

John Purroy Mitchell, president of the board of aldermen, has been acting mayor of the city in Mayor Gaynor's place.

THIEVES SECURE $21,000 IN MAIL

Two Men Arrested as Result of Looting P. O. Bags on Steamer.

SEATTLE, Oct. 3.—Sixteen thousand dollars in gold bullion and a large sum in Canadian and American bank notes estimated by the post-office authorities at $5,000, formed the prize that prompted the looting of the mail room of the steamship City of Seattle last night as she was approaching this port from Skagway, Alaska.

Postoffice inspectors who are investigating the theft, assert that three men were in the conspiracy to rob the steamer. One of these, alias William, was on the ship, was arrested this morning and $8000 in gold and a large roll of bills was found in his possession. The detectives declare that they have learned the identity of the other men in the plot. Gustaf E. Berglin, a sailor on the City of Seattle, charged with complicity in the crime and it is expected that another arrest will be made soon.

BANKERS ASSEMBLE IN LOS ANGELES

Committees Consider Much Legislation Desired by the Profession.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Delegates to the thirty-sixth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association met today in business today in meetings of seventeen committees were questions of great importance to the convention which begins tomorrow morning were taken up and discussed.

The committee meetings were held for the purpose of clearing the decks for action and planning everything so that the action of the convention on all important topics and questions of remedial legislation governing bankers and banks throughout the country might be taken up quickly and disposed of in short order.

With seventeen important committee meetings in progress at practically the same hour at the Alexandria hotel and the Auditorium, General Secretary Fred E. Farnsworth was the busiest man in all Los Angeles. Reports of the proceedings of these committees, which were all held in five sessions, were made to the general secretary late in the day, but the recommendations will not be made public until the association convenes in business session at the Auditorium tomorrow morning, and these recommendations may be greatly altered by the convention itself.

Important topics considered at the meetings of the various committees held today were:

"Fidelity Bonds and Burglary Insurance," "Express Companies and Money Orders," "Banking Laws," "False Statements," "Forms for National and State Bankers," "Currency Commission," and "Federal Legislative Committee."

Great interest attached to the meeting of the bill of lading committee, which will recommend that the convention endorse the Stevens bill, which has passed the House and is now before the Senate. This bill makes it obligatory upon the carriers to stand behind every bill of lading issued. It is believed that this will compel the railroads to common carriers to guard shipments that are of value and that the danger of frauds on financial institutions by forged and worthless bills will be almost entirely eliminated.

Delegates to the convention numbering nearly 1500 have already registered at headquarters and it is estimated that fully 1500 relatives and friends of the visiting bankers are also in the city to attend the convention. Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the convention will be called to order by President Peterson and the work of the convention will begin.

Although invitations of rival cities for the convention of next year will not be presented to the convention until next Friday, yet a vigorous fight is already on by the delegates from Atlantic City, New Orleans, San Antonio, Tex., and Richmond, Va. Lobbying of the most approved type is in progress among the delegates and champions of the various cities striving for the honor of the 1911 convention are making their best efforts to capture the convention. Richmond, Va., has sent a large delegation to the convention, and these hostlers are making strenuous efforts to capture the next meeting.

Heretofore the association has made it a practice of deferring selection of the next meeting place to the executive council, and the announcement had not been made as a general rule until

GREAT FIRE RAGES IN CENTER OF NEW YORK CITY

Flames Are Beyond Control of the Department for Three Hours.

THE LOSS IS $1,500,000 Three Acres of Lumber Yards, Factories and Sta- bles Destroyed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Fire in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth street and Eleventh avenue swept an area 500 by 300 feet, causing damage estimated at $1,500,000. Chief Croker announced that it was the greatest burned area in his experience in New York city.

The space swept comprises almost three acres of lumber yards, factories and stables.

For nearly three hours the fire was beyond control of the fire department and was stopped at length by action of apparatus which combined threw water at the rate of 25,000 gallons a minute.

ADVISES FEDERAL PAY FOR MILITIA

Washington Commander Suggests Regular Army Men Have Charge.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—The payment of salaries to members of the National Guard was recommended today by the twelfth annual convention of the National Guard Association, which opened today. The proposition was urged by General James A. Drain of the Washington National Guard.

General Drain also advised the appointment of regular officers to take charge of the various state organizations. It is understood tonight that General Drain's proposal that the federal government pay the militia men will be opposed by the delegates from the Eastern states, where the guards are said to be better provided for.

General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, was on the program today, but was delayed in reaching the city.

CHINESE IMPERIAL SENATE IS OPENED

Another Step Taken Toward Formation of Constitu- tional Government.

PEKIN, China, Oct. 3.—China took another forward step today when the newly constituted imperial senate was opened by the regent, Prince Chun.

In a brief address Prince Chun said the wish of the people was for a parliamentary government and he commanded the senators to labor for this consummation.

The imperial senate constitutes the second stage in China's development of a popular representative government. The first was the inauguration a year ago of the provincial assemblies. The crowning event will be the establishment of a general parliament, promised for 1915.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Having taken the first step of the Municipal League for seven years, Charles A. Bonaparte, attorney general of the United States under President Roosevelt, announced that he will retire from the office. His successor will be chosen by the league November 14-15.

The month of May following the meeting. But the competition is so keen this year that it is probable a selection will be made at the meeting of the convention next Friday.

Tonight the members of the executive council of the American Bankers' Association and heads of various committees were entertained at an elaborate banquet at the Alexandria hotel. Nearly two hundred guests were present. The menu was in the form of a government bond with engraved coupons calling for each course. The unique menu was a decided feature of the banquet.

The speakers and their subjects were: "The President of the United States," Lee McClung; "The State of California," Rev. Robert J. Burdette; "The American Bankers' Association," Louis E. Peterson; "The Relation of the Banker to the Public," C. M. Reynolds; "Need of Currency Reform," Charles H. Nutting; "Community of Pacific Coast Interests," Miles C. Moore; "The New South," E. C. Watts.

At the meeting of the executive council this afternoon, H. V. Smith of Oswego, N. Y., presented his resignation and the vacancy on the council was filled by the election of H. W. Smith, president of the Rockville Center (New York) bank. Most resigned to accept the presidency of the New York Bankers' Association.

BOILERS EXPLODE; STEAMER LOST IN GULF OF PANAMA

PANAMA, Oct. 3.—The steamer Chiquita, belonging to the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, and plying between Panama and Buena Ventura, is reported lost by an explosion of her boilers off Garachiche in the Gulf of Panama.

Two steamers have been sent out to investigate the report. The Chiquita carried 37 first class passengers, including the crew, there were seventy persons aboard. She was of 343 tons register.

SEYMOUR PLANS A REORGANIZATION

The San Francisco Police Force Is to Be Placed on a New Basis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—At a meeting of the board of police commissioners held here today, Captain John F. Seymour was appointed chief of police to succeed John B. Martin, who was retired with the rank of captain, at half pay.

Seymour is well known in police circles, having been captain of detectives for several years, until 1902, when he retired to become manager of the Wells Fargo Express company, which position he resigned today to accept the direction of the police department.

In accepting the position, Seymour declared that he had taken an oath to do his duty and he would require every man in the department to do the same. He indicated that there would be a general reorganization of the detective force.

JOHNSON ENTERTAINED BY SAN DIEGO CITIZENS

Will Speak Today at San Bernardino, Redlands and Colton.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 3.—Hiram W. Johnson, Republican nominee for governor, arrived in this city tonight from Los Angeles, the schedule for his day visit to San Diego having been shortened in order that he might remain in Los Angeles until this afternoon for a brief rest. Johnson was met upon his arrival at 7 o'clock by a reception committee and taken directly to the U. S. Grand hotel, which was opened during the early evening for an informal reception in his honor.

Johnson was met at the hotel by scores of Republicans, who crowded the lobby to greet him. At 9 o'clock a dinner was given at one of the downtown cafes, at which 150 Republicans, including practically all the Republican editors of San Diego county were present. The toastmaster at the dinner was County Chairman Dr. D. Goehner. Speeches were made by a number of Republican leaders. Johnson will leave San Diego at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow morning by train for San Bernardino, and during the afternoon will make brief stops at San Bernardino, Redlands and Colton. In the evening he will be the guest at a dinner at the Glenwood Mission Inn at Riverside.

RAILWAY MEN TO ACT IN CONCERT

Lee Sends Political Appeal to 112,000 Members of Three Organizations.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—President W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen made public today a list of questions which has been mailed to all lodges of his organization, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Order of Railway Conductors, to be submitted to all candidates for Congress and state legislatures asking their stand on legislation affecting the three organizations.

"Counting our members of 112,000 and their friends we control a million votes," said Lee. "These votes will be cast as the candidates answer."

The legislation brought into question follows:

Can not providing for compensation to workers when injured in the service of a railroad.

An employers' liability law without a contributory negligence clause except in cases of misconduct.

Government inspection of locomotive boilers.

Compulsory arbitration, which railway workers oppose.

An obstruction and clearance bill preventing the building of all structures near railway tracks.

An anti-injunction bill.

A bill allowing fraternal magazines the same privileges as any other publication.

A bill regulating the number of experienced workmen in a crew and providing for amendments to the 16-hour continuous service law.

MEYER AT ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Oct. 3.—Secretary of the Navy George Von Meyer, his clerk and military aide, arrived in St. Paul today en route to the Pacific coast. After an inspection of Fort Snelling and a visit to Minneapolis, Secretary left for the West tonight.

ON TRAIL OF DYNAMITERS AROUND SAN FRANCISCO

Attorney Earl Rogers and Detective Burns Prob- ing Sale of Explosive—Half Million Said to Be Available For Investigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Accompanied by Detective William J. Burns and three detectives from the Los Angeles police department, Attorney Earl Rogers, who is in charge of the investigation of the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times plant, arrived today and began work on the case. While no definite clue has rewarded the search thus far, it was determined that the trail would soon lead again to the southern city.

That conditions level the relations of men is evidenced in the association of Rogers and Burns in the present case. Tonight they are in the St. Francis hotel with their headquarters in a case that the world is watching. Only a few months ago, when Burns was chief of the special agents in the cases of the men charged with municipal corruption in this city, and Rogers was one of the principal attorneys for Patrick Calahan, president of the United Railroads, these men passed in the lobby of this same hotel with furtive glances at each other. The enemy now is a common one and instead of matching their wits they are pooling their skill in a game where personal animosity is forgotten.

It was reported here tonight that a fund of $500,000 has been placed at the disposal of the investigators by the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles. The amount was originally $300,000, this much having been subscribed in an hour by the business men of Los Angeles. The sum was later increased to $500,000 and this afternoon, it was raised to $1,000,000. It was raised to have a million dollars.

Rogers and Burns devoted most of their day to visits along the waterfront and to the plant of the powder company at Giant, Contra Costa county. No trace was found of the launch which Rogers and Burns were looking for concerning the men who manned the craft.

It is believed the name Peerless was assumed for the purpose of misleading the detectives. It became known tonight that two men whose descriptions agree with A. J. Bryson and William Morris, the men who purchased the 500 pounds of gelatine dynamite at the Giant works on September 23rd, visited a local firm at about closing time on the night of September 23rd, and purchased the dynamite. The launch was seen on the night of September 23rd, but it was not seen again.

Bruce McCaul, chief invoice clerk at the powder works, told the detectives today that he could identify the three men who bought the powder from him on September 23rd. The man who purchased the powder gave the name of Bryson and the man who accompanied him was known as Morris. The cash payment for the explosive was made at the company's office in this city by Bryson. McCaul says that the man who called at the works for the powder was a man of about 35 years of age, with a complexion, smooth shaven, heavy face, sunken right eye, which indicated a fracture of the bone of the socket. He weighed about 130 pounds. The other two men were younger. Morris was of swarthy hue, giving him the appearance of a Spaniard. He had regular features, brown eyes, tightly drawn skin about the nostrils and looked to be about 25 years of age. The unknown man, whose name was given as Leonard, was about 28 years of age, dark and smooth shaven, resembling Bryson in many particulars.

"We who are investigating this case with the aid of the detectives are in a position where our movements must necessarily be guarded," said Attorney Rogers tonight. "We are dealing with shrewd, calculating men, who are as keen to keep track of our movements as we are to apprehend them."

"At present we are without any positive clue, but I think that we are safe in saying that we are close behind the fellows and I would not be surprised if they were behind the bars in a few days. I think that the development will lead us back to Los Angeles, but we will go over this ground thoroughly before we leave."

"All present we are without any positive clue, but I think that we are safe in saying that we are close behind the fellows and I would not be surprised if they were behind the bars in a few days. I think that the development will lead us back to Los Angeles, but we will go over this ground thoroughly before we leave."

Burns and the other detectives, together with Attorney Earl Rogers and a powder expert representing a large Eastern firm of explosive manufacturers, are in San Francisco, where they are immediately reorganizing the dynamite which charges in the infernal machine found at Zeelandia's was a part.

FEAR DYNAMITING OF FEDERAL BUILDING

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Special precautions were taken tonight by United States Marshal Youngworth to protect the new federal building against possible dynamiting. This was done after Postmaster Harrison notified him that since the Times disaster he had received several letters. Some are threatening in tone, while others are in the nature of warnings.

While Harrison does not consider the letters seriously, believing them to be the work of cranky persons, he deemed it his duty to notify the marshal. Marshal Youngworth immediately assigned deputies to keep constant watch about the building, which was only opened to the public last week.

Doubt was expressed by labor leaders tonight that the explosion at the Times was due to human agency. O. A. Twiss, A. J. Gallagher, J. B. Bowen, A. San Francisco, and George Gurney of this city discussed the subject informally while conferring in regard to the State Federation of Labor convention which opens tomorrow, but declined to issue any statement. The consensus of opinion of the four is that union labor is done an injustice in being connected with the disaster.

The executive committee of the Democratic Party organization adopted the following resolutions today:

"Whereas, the crimes of arson and murder have been recently perpetrated in our midst against the personnel and property of the Los Angeles Times, whereby at least a score of innocent and unsuspecting workmen and employees lost their lives and their bodies incinerated by the flames, which also destroyed a half million dollars worth of property, committed by the hands of cowardly and malicious assassins using dynamite explosives to accomplish their fiendish purpose, now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Democratic executive committee in session assembled hereby denounce in unmeasured terms the perpetrators of the outrage as diabolical and wicked criminals, express the sincere hope that swift and certain punishment may overtake the guilty persons, to the end that our community may be permanently purged of such undesirable and harmful characters; and we hereby pledge our earnest and active assistance in aiding the officers of the law in bringing the offenders to justice."

HUNDREDS SEEK GREAT REWARDS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 3.—Under the stimulus of proffered rewards, aggregating $100,000, hundreds of men, policemen and private citizens here and in the great cities are searching for clues that may lead to the arrest of the band of conspirators who are held responsible for the blowing up of the Times building last Saturday, and the attempted destruction of the homes of General Harrison Gray Otis and F. J. Zeelandia, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association. Police and civilians believe that there were three men concerned in the outrage, which cost the lives of more than a score of the Times' employees, and the city has placed a price of $10,000 upon the head of each. The county today voted an additional reward of $1000 for every man captured and convicted. As a top of all this, members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association decided to offer a reward of $10,000 for the capture of the man who already has been volunteered. The rest will be contributed tomorrow, it is said.

UNEQUAL REWARDS
Upon the assumption that at least three men were responsible for the wrecking of the Times, the combined offers of rewards thus reach up to $100,000—a figure almost unprecedented in the annals of criminal pursuits and indicative of the determination of all classes to hunt down and punish the perpetrators of the dynamite outrage.

The entire city has been thoroughly aroused. One newspaper which has been friendly to labor, printed a first-page editorial today demanding that the strikes now in progress be forthwith called off, and in view of the strictures directed at the unions in connection with the explosion, the State Federation of Labor, which met in convention here today, probably will take action tomorrow looking toward appointment of investigators who will work in conjunction with the committee named by city officials.

ARRESTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE CASE are hourly expected. Chief of Police Galloway said today that he expected to have one or all of the bomb conspirators in custody within a few hours, and later he admitted that he expected the news to come from San Francisco, where he has come. Most promising clues so far developed. William J. Burns, former head of the detective force engaged in the graft cases of San Francisco, is at work tonight in that city, with other Los Angeles detectives who were sent north upon the receipt of information that men named Leonard, Bryson and Morris had purchased their dynamite from which charges in the infernal machine found at Zeelandia's was a part.

Burns and the other detectives, together with Attorney Earl Rogers and a powder expert representing a large Eastern firm of explosive manufacturers, are in San Francisco, where they are immediately reorganizing the dynamite which charges in the infernal machine found at Zeelandia's was a part.

BUILDINGS GUARDED
In the meantime every available member of the police department is engaged on the case in this city. Forty additional patrolmen were ordered en route by the council which met in special session today. Ten additional sergeants and another lieutenant were authorized. These men are being enroute where they have been strike troubles recently. Two lion founders, the Craig shipyard at Long Beach the Alexandria hotel, now in course of construction, and several other large steel buildings being erected downtown are heavily guarded.

General Otis is being protected by a bodyguard, both in and out of his office, and the branch office, which houses the editorial and business departments of the Times, together with the auxiliary plant where the paper is printed, are also heavily guarded both by plain clothes men and patrolmen in uniform.

The offers of enormous rewards has had the effect of eliciting literally hundreds of people in the hunt for the conspirators.

One clue which appeared for a time very promising came from Portland, Information said to have been furnished in that city. Some detectives went to bring in ex-employees of the Times, but the addresses given 3415 Vaughn street could not be found either in the city or its environs.

Another report from San Francisco tonight, the only one of the kind to have appeared in the Times, was running a search out of San Francisco, but it could not be verified.

Other clues are being investigated tonight, and in connection with the case.

FIND UNCONSCIOUS MAN LYING ON SANTA FE TRACKS; MAY DIE

Believed to Have Fallen From Train; Skull Fractured Over Right Eye.

Important Ruling Is Made in Will Case; Chinaman in Trouble.

HANFORD, Oct. 3.—A man, believed to be Maurice Fitzgerald, was found in an unconscious condition on the Santa Fe tracks in this city shortly before 12 o'clock last night. The discovery was made by two pedestrians who were on their way home after spending the evening in Hanford.

Night Watchman Conrad was notified and Physician MacFarlane and Motherer were taken to where the man lay in a pool of water a few feet west of the water tank. The body was picked up and taken in the Vendome car, first to the city hall, then to Dr. Motherer's office, where an examination of his injuries was made and he was found to be unconscious. His most dangerous injury was found to consist in a fracture of the skull over the right eye. When his clothing was searched a small sum of money was found and also Wells Fargo express orders aggregating a little over $100. From papers found on his person it is believed that his name is Maurice Fitzgerald, that he is a member of the Nevada Mining Federation. He had in his possession a receipt for a bundle shipped to himself from Bakersfield to San Luis Obispo, Cal.

It is not known as to how he received his injuries, but Watchman Conrad of the North Ontario Packing company says that he thinks the man fell from the "Soldiers' Special" passenger train that passed through Hanford a few minutes before Fitzgerald was found.

After the examination was made at Dr. Motherer's office the injured man was taken to the county hospital. Late this afternoon the coroner's inquest was held for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of his death. The jury returned a verdict that he died of heart failure. The case of immorality against Thomas James, Jr., of Coarse Gold was dismissed in the justice court at Baymond Saturday.

W. J. McIntosh was here from Fresno today in the interest of a farm estate which will be held in Burcroft's hall on Tuesday, October 12th. One of the speakers will be Professor Rixford of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Today Judge Covert of the Kings county superior court ruled in the case of the Bagan will contest that a motion to have the will set aside was denied. The judge stated that his grounds for so ruling was that there was a later will, which while destroyed, according to the evidence was in revocation of the will offered for probate by Mrs. Bagan.

W. J. Stewart, a brick mason employed by the new Episcopal church building in this city, fell from a scaffold, a distance of thirty feet, shortly after the noon hour today, receiving painful but not serious injuries. He was attended by Dr. C. L. Scott.

A disastrous fire occurred Saturday evening at Mike White's ranch house west of town. The house and contents were not injured, but the outbuilding, including a large hay barn and a quantity of hay were consumed. The loss is estimated at $1,000.

Robert Blackney (colored), who has recently served a term in jail for assaulting a Chinaman in the New York store, is again in the toils. After leaving his wife yesterday he went away from home and returned later with a Winchester evidently intending to commit some grave crime. In the meantime, however, his wife had gone to the home of friends. He was arrested by Marshal Frederick.

Charlotte Broad, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Broad, while at play yesterday jumped from the front porch to the ground a distance of but three feet, and as she struck the ground her right leg doubled under her in such a way that both bones were broken below the knee.

MADERA IS COMING UP FOR FAIR TODAY

All the Stores to Close and Even Newspapers Will Shut Up Shop.

Important Ruling Is Made in Will Case; Chinaman in Trouble.

HANFORD, Oct. 3.—The town will close up tomorrow and Madera will journey to Fresno to participate in the Fresno fair on Madera day. The stores will close and the newspaper offices also, as everyone desires to make Madera day a big success.

Mrs. J. Francis, wife of Buck Francis, captain of the Madera team, with her little daughter, had a narrow escape from being badly burned last night at her room in Mrs. V. Santa's home on B street. At 8 o'clock, while Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Kelley were sitting in the room the lace curtain was blown on the lamp and took fire. The flames shot to the ceiling and in a few moments the room was full of smoke. The ladies, though greatly frightened, managed to trudge down the blazing curtains. Sparks fell on the bed where Mrs. Francis' little girl was asleep, and burned holes through the bedding and pillow, the little one being rescued unharmed.

The funeral of Mrs. C. Thome took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence in the Lowmuck addition and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Craig of Hanford, who came for that purpose, and was short, though impressive. The following named acted as pall bearers: E. Powell, C. E. Bonner, J. S. Willis, C. A. Glick, T. L. McCall, H. G. Gibson. The interment was in Arden Vista cemetery.

R. H. Dickie has been appointed a county sheriff by Sheriff Jones.

Mrs. Anastasia Melendrez, an old resident of Madera, passed away last night after a long illness of old age. She was a native of Mexico and lived here for about forty years. She leaves three sons and a daughter and several grandchildren.

Sheriff Jones returned from Crane Valley yesterday, after an unsuccessful trip after Cospes, a Mexican who assaulted and slightly wounded a foreman of one of the S. J. L. and P. Company camps.

Deputy Coroner R. S. Jay returned from Sugar Pine, bringing with him the remains of Felipe Ramos, who died there suddenly Friday. An inquest was held, the verdict being that death was caused by pneumonia, complicated with heart failure. Deceased was a native of Mexico, aged 52 years. He has three daughters in Mexico.

The case of immorality against Thomas James, Jr., of Coarse Gold was dismissed in the justice court at Baymond Saturday.

W. J. McIntosh was here from Fresno today in the interest of a farm estate which will be held in Burcroft's hall on Tuesday, October 12th. One of the speakers will be Professor Rixford of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

blue coat, dark corduroy trousers and a soft blue shirt.

Today Judge Covert of the Kings county superior court ruled in the case of the Bagan will contest that a motion to have the will set aside was denied. The judge stated that his grounds for so ruling was that there was a later will, which while destroyed, according to the evidence was in revocation of the will offered for probate by Mrs. Bagan.

W. J. Stewart, a brick mason employed by the new Episcopal church building in this city, fell from a scaffold, a distance of thirty feet, shortly after the noon hour today, receiving painful but not serious injuries. He was attended by Dr. C. L. Scott.

A disastrous fire occurred Saturday evening at Mike White's ranch house west of town. The house and contents were not injured, but the outbuilding, including a large hay barn and a quantity of hay were consumed. The loss is estimated at $1,000.

Robert Blackney (colored), who has recently served a term in jail for assaulting a Chinaman in the New York store, is again in the toils. After leaving his wife yesterday he went away from home and returned later with a Winchester evidently intending to commit some grave crime. In the meantime, however, his wife had gone to the home of friends. He was arrested by Marshal Frederick.

Charlotte Broad, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Broad, while at play yesterday jumped from the front porch to the ground a distance of but three feet, and as she struck the ground her right leg doubled under her in such a way that both bones were broken below the knee.

SPECIAL TAX RATE FIXED BY SUPERVISORS FOR TIPTON DISTRICT

City of Tulare Has Permission to Run Sewer Line Over County Road.

Important Ruling Is Made in Will Case; Chinaman in Trouble.

HANFORD, Oct. 3.—The board of supervisors today fixed the special tax rate of the Tipton irrigation district at 25 cents on the $100 valuation for the paying off of the bonded indebtedness, amounting to something over $75,000, but which had been compromised at $45,000 through an agreement between the land owners and the bond holders. The tax will be collected at the same time as the state and county taxes.

The supervisors today granted the City of Tulare permission to run a sewer line over a portion of the county road adjacent to that city upon petition. One protest was filed. The road is part of a county tract never yet opened.

The supervisors have appointed the following to compose a board of statisticians to compile statistics demanded annually by the state board as follows: V. D. Krupp, Porterville; I. N. Beaver, Tulare; W. M. Lindsey, Visalia; W. F. McFarlane, Hanford; C. J. Peake, Woodville.

Articles of Incorporation of the Oliver Abstract & Title Guaranty company of this city were filed today. The company is incorporated for $15,000, with $12,000 subscribed. The directors are Cromwell Oliver, L. R. Oliver and Nathan Levy of this city, and the stockholders, L. R. Oliver, $10,000; Cromwell Oliver, $1,000; Nathan Levy, $300 and M. E. Power, $200.

Police Chief and City Tax Collector W. F. DeVal moved today into his office in the new city hall building. He is the first of the city officials to occupy the new building. The city trustees will meet there Wednesday night.

Fifteen or sixteen members of Canton Visalia I. O. O. F. left tonight for Santa Ana to attend the grand encampment of Odd Fellows to be held during the balance of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kibler and little babe were precipitated into the Watchman ditch near this city last night when a spring wagon was overturned. None of the three were injured. Dr. Pettit was passing in his auto at the time and took Mrs. Kibler and babe to their home. Mr. Kibler drove his horse off the bridge.

It is estimated that the number of registrations since the first of July, the total was 1,300. This is several hundred in excess of the previous estimate made a few days ago. Filled registration blanks are being received in numbers from deputies all over the county. As it is not now necessary to do so to vote, few of the registration statements contain party affiliations.

The first condemnation suit by either of the two railroads being built between Porterville and Springville was begun today when the Porterville Northeastern brought suit against Agnes Smith, Francis Smith and Helen Smith to condemn a right of way through a part of section 3, 22-28 near the North corner of J. A. Allen and G. Murray are attorneys for the railroad.

Rev. Dan Shannon, evangelist, began revival meetings in this city in the tabernacle recently erected at the corner of Mineral King avenue and Garden street yesterday. The meetings are joint affairs with the two Methodist Presbyterians, Christian and Baptist denominations participating. Singing Evangelist Ross has organized a chorus of about sixty. The meetings will be continued until perhaps the middle of November.

City Trustee J. F. Jordan is back from Los Angeles and San Jacinto where he visited for some time. While in Los Angeles he roomed at the Hotel Nadeau, directly opposite the Los Angeles Times building. He left the hotel the night before the disaster.

Tulding for the 4-foot conduit for the Watchman ditch near the Cutler bridge has arrived and will be installed shortly taking the place of the old 18-inch conduit. The new conduit is 4 feet in diameter and will be installed in a trench 6 feet wide and 4 feet deep.

The local musicians, playing in public, have met and formed a union, raising the prices for dances from $1 to $5 from 9 o'clock to midnight and from $1 to $1.50 per hour thereafter. Evening playing or afternoons will be $1.50 per hour straight.

A number of members of the Wildcat club enjoyed a shoot at the preserve in Kings county yesterday, getting plenty of the birds. The fact that not many of the ponds contained water kept the shooting from being as good as it might have been. A rare wild will to the number of birds, which is, however, quite large now.

County Assessor Arthur Crowley is back from Mineral King where he assumed his annual summer duties as postmaster.

PORTERVILLE HUNTERS HAVE GREAT SUCCESS

Humane Society Says State Should Pay for Killing of Condemned Horses.

Important Ruling Is Made in Will Case; Chinaman in Trouble.

HANFORD, Oct. 3.—Five members of the Porterville Fish and Game Protective Association returned from the game preserve on Tulare Lake last evening and brought with them not only a lot of the good hunting which the lake affords this year, but brought with them about eighty ducks of all kinds, including a few canvas backs and mallards. In the party were Walter Vinson, Hugh Tompkins, O. H. Huber, Charles Boatman and Charles Sweet, the trip being made in Mr. Bowman's car. The club has a preserve which consists of an island of about one section in extent in the middle of the lake and they report that the preserve is simply alive with game. Fishing is also said to be exceptionally good. The club will pay for all horses which are found to be afflicted with glanders and which are ordered destroyed, the burden of a set of resolutions which were adopted at a meeting of the Tulare County Humane Society held here this afternoon and at which all of the directors were present.

Secretary Hendry of the local society is also the vice chairman of the state board of directors and he will present these resolutions at the next meeting of the state board which is to be held at San Francisco. In addition to declaring for the payment for destroyed animals, it is to be further provided in a bill which will be suggested to the next meeting of the legislature that suitable rewards be paid to those who report cases of glanders to the officers and who report the detection and eradication of dangerous cases.

Really remarkable progress has been made by the promoters of the Porterville Northeastern Railroad during the past ten days and by the purchase of a bit of property in the reservation district last week by Munger & Co., San Francisco, there is no longer any dispute over rights of way, the last of the obstacles being removed in the purchase mentioned.

It is definitely announced through the railroad officers that the road will be completed in ample time to handle the ever orange crop and that trains will be running to the summer resorts in the hills by the first of July of next year.

Work of the Porterville Choral Union will be begun with a general rehearsal which is to be held this evening. There are to be two concerts given this year, the first of which will be devoted to individual classics and the following one will probably be devoted to the presentation of an oratorio.

According to a general investigation which has been conducted by the officers of the Citrus Association, the total yield this year will be 25 percent in excess of that of the season of 1909. The fruit is sizing with exceptional rapidity and will be ready for market this season perhaps two weeks earlier than for the preceding season.

ESPEE NOW INSTALLING MODERN SYSTEM OF BLOCK SIGNALS

Crews Are at Work on Line Between Fowler and Kingsburg.

Theodore Bell Is to Speak in Selma Tomorrow, News Notes.

SELMA, Oct. 3.—Construction crews are working headquarters here while installing a modern block signal system on the railroad between Kingsburg and Fowler. The work is a part of the general installation of this system which is being made on the main line of the Espee throughout the valley.

As a result of the crews' work the Selma yards are becoming quite a network of wires and are dotted with several of the signal towers. The regular train schedule makes this the regular busy time for a good many trains every day and recent additions have made over two miles of passing tracks at this point. Arrangements are being made in the new signal system so that as it might have been. A rare wild will to the number of birds, which is, however, quite large now.

THEODORE A. BELL IN FRESNO TODAY

The Democratic Candidate for Governor of California to Make Two Addresses.

Theodore A. Bell, the Democratic candidate for governor, will be the guest of the city today, speaking this morning at the court house park and this afternoon at the county fair. J. Stitt Wilson, the Socialist candidate, will be with Bell. A parade is to take place this afternoon at 1 o'clock before Bell leaves for the county fair. After delivering his address there, Bell will leave by automobile for Visalia, speaking en route at Sanger, Parlier and Reedley, reaching the latter place about 6 o'clock. He plans to speak at Sanger about 4:30 and at Parlier about 5:15.

OUTCOMING THRONO PRAISES VAUDEVILLE

S. & C. Theater Makes a Big Hit With This Week's Clever Bill.

Should you happen around the corner of J and Kern streets about 9 or 10:30 any evening when the crowds that throng to S. & C. vaudeville theater are leaving, you will hear many times "That's a swell show," or "It's great." If they keep it up, they will do the business. "Selling Brothers will keep it up. This week's show is bigger and better than last week's."

Marion and Wally in a comedy sketch "Trying to Make Good," open the show, following the overture "Opportunity" by the S. & C. orchestra, and the audience is immediately put in a state of humor to welcome Mr. Walter Perry, a real comedian, in "The Great and Powerful" work is a laugh from start to finish, while Miss Conchita Carranza develops a desire for musical numbers in her clever Spanish songs and dances. Miss Frances White, California's sweet singer, paves the way with applause to the special musical number under the direction of Professor Gustav Schultheis, "Traumerl," by Schumann in violin solo parts is rendered by Bella Puri in a most artistic and clever manner, only to be equaled by the full orchestra in the "Lullaby" from "Lullaby" by Donizetti. From the applause last night's audience appreciated excellent music. Musical Benches played to five encores on their sweet toned exophones. Mr. Benney rendered the "Post and Prentiss" overture as a master of the art.

With this combination of talent there is also the feature act, "Rawson and Clara in 'Just Kidding' and 'Yesterday'." Miss Clara is as dainty and individual as she is brilliant and her individual style in singing and talking that is charming. Guy Rawson is all to the good as a rustic clown, being delightfully realistic. This is the best combination of all-star show ever presented in this city and will prove a rare treat to all who enjoy real music.

WEST POINT, Oct. 3.—By order of General Thomas Barry, superintendent of the United States military academy, all privileges which were withdrawn from the officers after the "silence" given Captain Logan in the mess hall were restored to the cadets this evening.

Late this evening the board of inquiry stopped hearing witnesses and the entire corps was marched to by gymnasium, where they were met by General Barry, who behind closed doors, gave his several hundred charges a "heart to heart" talk.

The superintendent as yet knew nothing of the case other than that which he had read in the newspapers, he said, and there would be no punishment for any of them.

Board of inquiry has implicated, which would come later after due consideration of the findings.

BRIEF EDITORIAL FANCIES SELECTED

Not Japan's Affair

The report that comes by way of Paris, to the effect that there is "diplomacy" in Japan because the United States purpose to fortify the Panama canal, is of interest chiefly because it illustrates that remarkable chip-on-the-shoulder attitude which Japan has maintained ever since her war with Russia. Why should the Japanese concern themselves about the intention of the United States to protect the canal, or of interest chiefly because it illustrates that remarkable chip-on-the-shoulder attitude which Japan has maintained ever since her war with Russia. Why should the Japanese concern themselves about the intention of the United States to protect the canal, or of interest chiefly because it illustrates that remarkable chip-on-the-shoulder attitude which Japan has maintained ever since her war with Russia.

It seems very unlikely that Tokyo will make any representations on the subject at Washington, unless Japan's ally, England, takes that course, which is hardly to be expected. Still, the fact that Japan is disturbed over this matter which is really none of her business, will not prove reassuring. Had the matter of fortifications at the canal come up before the Japanese-Russian war, the Japanese would not have thought of objections. Why should they raise them, even unofficially, now?

However, as it is the United States and American money that are building the canal, this country does not have to ask the permission of any other power to protect its own, and from the attitude of the Taft administration there is every reason to believe that the canal will be fortified, and that it will have as powerful a defense as skill and money will provide.—San Diego Union.

OBLITERATION OF THE OLD GUARD IN NEW YORK ACCOMPLISHED BY APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE

The Colonel's victory in the New York state convention is gratifying, but scarcely surprising, and this may be said notwithstanding the extreme confidence with which the Old Guard in numerous instances has been able to outwit and outvote him as a factor in American public life.

The fight waged against Roosevelt had a double purpose. On the surface and primarily it was a desperate struggle by the Old Guard to retain control of the New York state politics and the legislature, which had been for years a form of merchandise in their hands.

But the conflict had another and perhaps even more important aspect in that it was intended to destroy Roosevelt politically. Powerful influences and interests that have for years fattened off legislative favors in state and nation hate and fear Roosevelt, and this act serves to explain the quite remarkable unanimity of the New York press in denunciation of him. For the most part that press is as corrupt as the Old Guard and the Albany gang, and is even more responsive to Wall Street inspiration.

But all this opposition and the entrenched power of the bosses did not avail, and indeed it is a law of politics that the bosses are always beaten when the issue is clearly made before the people. They are able to run things when people are not looking or are indifferent, and because of this fact they are quite likely to be afflicted with what they themselves like to call "well head." It is from this destructive malady that they have been suffering in New York.

Take by way of example the important statement issued a week ago by the Albany boss, in which he said: "The result of the primaries ends the contest over the temporary chairmanship of the Republican state convention and gives Vice-President Sherman a clear majority of fifty-five votes over both the Roosevelt-Grimes-Greener faction and the doubtful delegates. Interest naturally centers in the personal ambitions, but there are involved in this situation two principles of great importance to the Republican party. The first may be called orderly political management. Mr. Roosevelt was defeated in the state committee by a vote of twenty to fifteen, and then Mr. Sherman was unanimously chosen as the temporary presiding officer of the state convention. To question that determination on the basis of the convention is equivalent to botching the nomination. This is known as political weakness and had Mr. Roosevelt defeated Mr. Sherman in the state committee that would have been the end of the controversy. Mr. Roosevelt has not acted as Mr. Sherman would have done in questioning the unanimous action of the committee. May we could before the party. Mr. Roosevelt has no superior rights as a man to any other man."

There was a great deal more in the same line of talk, but this is sufficient to indicate the party's attitude and wholly ridiculous position occupied by these notoriously corrupt politicians, who assumed to speak for the Republican party in New York state. In the result they are themselves obliterated from the political map, and have lost the control of the party machine that has been the power which they themselves have been so anxious to maintain.

RAILROAD LAND SUBSIDIES AND CALIFORNIA CORPORATION OIL HOLDINGS

Gifford Pinchot declared before the mining congress that the government should attack the title of the Southern Pacific railroad to the immense area including the oil lands in California which is obtained by corruption of Congress, by sealing riders into bills making the grants whose main parts show plainly that it was never the intention to give to the railroad the minerals over which their lines ran, and by false witness in the courts supported by all the delays, sophistries and technicalities that able attorneys could conjure.

Mr. Pinchot's blunt statement and his possible intention to make it his business to do something about the matter may hurry the righting of a wrong to the people of this state and country that has few parallels even in the history of our corruption-corrupted government. The subsidy granted to the Atlantic and Pacific, the Texas Pacific and their successor, the Southern Pacific, was enormous and plunderous under the most moderate interpretation that could be put upon the acts of Congress. It will amount to billions of dollars, perhaps, if the railroad is permitted to get away with its own interpretation of the corruptly-secured bargains.

Would any court now hold that the stupendous increase in and under these lands, worth a thousandfold the original grant, was ever intended by Congress to be taken away from the people and put into the hands of private individuals? It may well be doubted. The riches here involved, rivaling the wealth of Midas, bear no relation to the purpose for which the grant was made—the fair remuneration of a company for its enterprise in building a railroad.

The all lands are the odd sections in the primary and indemnity limits of the railroad grant in Kern county. They are worth thousands of dollars an acre. They are mineral lands and not coal or iron lands. They were granted to aid in the construction of the railroad. They were granted for distribution to settlers. They were not granted to enrich a few individuals who control the destinies of a quasi-public corporation.

But while the original grants specifically excepted minerals, the railroad now claim them under the grants. Notwithstanding that it was provided that the lands should be sold to settlers for a nominal sum, the company has ignored the provisions and expects to take from underneath them wealth that only the imagination can estimate. Let any bona fide settler now try to secure some of these properties for $2.50 an acre to encourage population and enterprise along the line of the roads and see what success he will have.

And even this does not state the worst of the case as it relates to the

Legend of the Opal

October's Birthstone
A sunbeam lingered under a leaf in the forest at sunset, until the moon suddenly rose. Enraptured with the shimmering beauty of a moonbeam, he stood entranced. In ecstasy they met, embraced and kissed, while the sun sank and left him in her arms.
The opal is the child of their love. In its fair face is forever mingled the silver of the rising moon and the golden glory of the sunset.

GATES OF FRESNO FAIR SWING OPEN FOR WEEK'S FESTIVITIES

GATES OF FRESNO FAIR SWING OPEN FOR WEEK'S FESTIVITIES

Fair-Sized Crowd in Attendance; All Exhibits to Be in Place by Noon Today; Gubernatorial Candidates Will Speak After the Big Parade. City Schools Close Tomorrow.

The gates of the Fresno Fair were formally opened to the public yesterday morning.

Shortly after the noon hour, the crowd began to arrive at the entrance to the Fair Grounds and from then until 3 o'clock, when a card of invitation was issued, the gates were open.

Unfortunately one-third of the exhibits in the pavilion were not in place. The single completed exhibit was that in Machinery Hall.

Several carloads of livestock arrived during the day and the visitors to the grounds had the opportunity of witnessing many horses and cattle as they passed along the driveway to their stalls.

The poultry show made a favorable impression, although many of the birds entered are yet to be placed in their cages. The large tent for the display of automobiles, which will be the largest in the history of a county fair here, The building will be completed by noon today.

Notwithstanding the tardiness of the exhibitors there was not a dull moment in the large pavilion until darkness arrived. The first visitors to the fair, those who passed through the gates at 10 o'clock, were given a glimpse of a human beehive. Scores of men and women were engaged in rushing the exhibits to completion.

The scene in the pavilion was one of bustle and haste with many horse-drawn wagons arriving hourly, loaded down with material for exhibits.

Before evening the exhibit of livestock grew larger and one shed was completely filled, the greater part of the exhibit being thoroughbred cattle from the State University at Davis, Cal. This stock was shown at the recent state fair at Sacramento. Saddle horses have not been overlooked by the exhibitors and with the arrival of a string of fancy stock yesterday all about the grounds for horses were taken.

Last night it became necessary to turn down several requests for stall room. Although a complete count has not been taken, there are about one hundred and twenty-five horses at the fair.

HORSE RACES TODAY.
With the exception of a warrent just after sunrise the trotting racing and running horses were not taken from their stalls yesterday. This afternoon the feature of the sporting calendar at the fair will be a 2:30 race, for which there are eight entries, a half-mile trot and a half-mile event, with twelve entries. The complete list of entries for the opening card will be found on the sporting page. The races are scheduled to begin at 2:30. At 3 o'clock a baseball game will take place at the Fair Grounds between the Brannocks and Brians.

The new grandstand which was erected last week on the site of the old clubhouse, was well filled yesterday during the motorcycle races. These seats face the proposed site for the splendid new fair grounds and also command a splendid view of the race track. A feature of the opening day was a brilliant procession by Joe Carman, a young man who is just breaking into the game. Carman went up at 4 o'clock from Aviation Field, just back of the stadium, with a huge gas bag sailed a mile toward Lone Star being carried at a height of 1500 feet in the direction by a strong current of air. The ascension and parachute drop was one of the best ever witnessed in Fresno.

DIRIGIBLE BALLOON TODAY.
Prof. J. L. Blodgett, president of the flight in his dirigible balloon today. If the weather conditions are favorable he will get off the ground at 10 o'clock this morning and expects to remain in the air for two hours, probably making five flights over the business section of the city. Two miles from Aviation Field. If adverse winds are encountered this morning, Prof. Hill will make his flight at 2 o'clock this afternoon, weather permitting at that hour.

A new feature scheduled for today is a performance on the tight wire by Pearlless Blondin of Chicago. Tonight he will walk the wire under a shower of fireworks. Blondin appeared at the recent State Fair at Sacramento and made a big hit. Charles E. Hoffman, who had charge of concessions at the fair, said that he was very anxious for the State Fair of 1911 and Hoffman is the authority for the statement that Blondin's act is a good one. In his afternoon performance, Blondin walks the wire in clown makeup, the cable being forty feet above the ground. The act will be pulled off directly opposite the grandstand and near the judges' booth.

HAPPY JACK TO APPEAR.
Happy Jack and his squad of cowboys and cowgirls will put on their initial "show" of the week this afternoon in connection with the horse races and baseball game. Happy Jack and Company will perform every day, beginning this afternoon. The Wild West stunts of the local cow-punchers was one of the principal features of the local fair last year.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon a horse parade will be held in front of the grandstand and will be repeated every day this week at the same hour, regardless of the ribbon-winning horses.

One afternoon will be set aside for a parade of both cattle and horses. The judging of live stock will begin this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The judges will not be announced until just before the time for calling out the entries. Those to be judged today are ladies' saddle horses, three-gaited combination stallions, mare or gelding, five gaited, and saddle mare or gelding class and open class of gaited.

JUDGE LIVESTOCK TODAY.
In the ladies' saddle horse class the following Fresno people have entered animals: Mrs. Leota Zapp, Mrs. Etta Wynne and Miss Jennie Wishon. In the combination stallion, mare or gelding class four entries have been entered. These are E. A. Bradford of San Francisco, J. T. Ragsdale of Merced, Mrs. Etta Wynne of Fresno, and Miss Jennie Wishon of Fresno.

Judging from the rapidity with which the pavilion is being whittled into shape all of the exhibits will be complete by the time the gates open at 10 o'clock this morning. The exhibit to be worked until a late hour last night putting on the finishing touches. The Chamber of Commerce exhibit in the center of the pavilion was complete yesterday and was admired by hundreds of visitors. The display is a reproduction of that shown at the State Fair, which was one of the best in recent years.

MADERA COMING TODAY.
Madera and all her citizens, old and young, with the crack band of that town, will reach Fresno this morning about 9 o'clock, the train being scheduled to leave Madera at 8 o'clock.

Drubba, with her brass band, will reach Fresno about 11 o'clock, just about the time Theodore A. Bell arrives from Bakersfield, and J. Stitt Wilson gets in from San Francisco.

At 1 o'clock the union labor organizations will fall in line, and with politicians from all over the state as well as local politicians, accompanied by the B. S. Club, will parade the streets, be reviewed by the court house, disband and then go to the fair grounds, where the speeches will be made and prizes awarded to the winning labor unions who take part in the parade.

PARADE THIS MORNING.
The first division of the parade, consisting of the police and fire departments will form at Merced and J streets; the second division, consisting of the politicians and political clubs, will form at 1 and Merced, and the third division, consisting of the union labor organizations, will form on 1 and Fresno.

The parade will move at 1 o'clock sharp, wheeling into J street from Merced, south on J to Fresno, west on Fresno to K, east on Mariposa to K, south on K to Fresno, west on Fresno to J street, south on J to Mariposa, east on Mariposa to K, passing the review and judging stand at the courthouse park fountain, thence south to Tulare and disband for the parade grounds, where Bell and others will speak at 2 o'clock.

Winners of the prizes will be announced from the speakers' platform at the fair grounds.

All the labor unions that are intending to compete for the four cash prizes are making great preparations for the event. Most of them have purchased new banners and new uniforms, so anxious are they to capture one of the prizes, and of course each union is striving for first prize.

BABCOCK IS MARSHAL.
L. E. Babcock, president of the Trades and Labor Assembly, will be grand marshal. He has selected Secretary T. C. Vickers and J. W. Garrell as his aids.

In order that the distinguished visitors may take part in the parade and review the fair grounds in time to deliver their speeches and leave on time to fill their previously arranged engagements it will be necessary for the parade to start promptly at 1 o'clock.

Those who have the matter in charge promise that this very desirable feature—moving parade—will be carried out in the letter.

Unless all signs fall the parade will not only be a big one but it will also be spectacular, for several of the organizations will have floats emblematic of their craft, as will also the Bell-Spicer Club.

In all likelihood the day will be one long to be remembered, especially in view of the fact that there will be three brass bands to furnish music and all of Dinuba and Madera to add enthusiasm to the occasion.

SCHOOLS CLOSE TOMORROW.
By a unanimous vote at its regular meeting last night the board of education resolved to dismiss all the public schools in Fresno at noon tomorrow in honor of Coalinga-Fresno fraternal order day.

The same action was taken by the Heads Business College, which insures every school child in Fresno the privilege of witnessing the big street parade that day as well as seeing the drill contests between the men's and women's national drill teams, about half a dozen of which are drilled every night and day in order to see perfect themselves that they will win the cash prizes offered by the Fresno Fair Association.

A handsome cup will be awarded the fraternal order that has the greatest number of members in the parade, and another cup will be awarded the order making the finest appearance.

The grand marshal and his aids will be announced this afternoon or tomorrow morning, together with all the details of the line of march.

BABY SHOW THURSDAY.
Entries are being received daily for the annual baby show which will be held Thursday afternoon at the fair grounds. The names of the judges will be announced in the evening. Judging begins. Mrs. E. A. Powell, who is in charge of the show, may be reached at phone Main 1721, where entries will be received. This year's baby show promises to eclipse all previous exhibitions of its kind in this city.

SOCIETY

With banners flying, bands playing and athletic contests, with many visitors attracted by the big fair and the great convention of the Danish Brotherhood, Fresno is in holiday garb and the fall festivities are "on." Now is the auspicious time when the stunning gowns, wonderful millinery creations and all the bravery of smart dressing bring the poignancy of a city holding high carnival.

The week destined to be memorable in club circles opened yesterday with the annual reception (tendered the Query club by its incoming president, Miss Eugenia Miller) with this year preside at the councils and deliberations of the society. Summer experiences of always a feature of President's Day, and one of the most interesting was a description of a journey through Yellowstone Park taken by Mrs. Montgomery Thomas and Mrs. J. L. Maupin. Mrs. Thomas illustrated her talk with beautiful pictures and snapshots.

Miss Elsie Smith, who had spent several months in some of the large Eastern cities, held the attention of her club sisters with a most fascinating account of her experience in historic Boston, with its splendid public library and its wonderful atmosphere of culture and study.

Miss Miller, the afternoon's hostess, sang four ballads in her usual pleasing manner, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Breed. Mrs. W. P. Miller, who has been making a study of the Greek drama, told of Margaret Anglin's marvelous production of Antigone at the Greek theater during the summer. Refreshments completed the afternoon's program.

The ladies who form the entertainment committee of the Danish Brotherhood's convention in this city gave a large reception yesterday afternoon at Risley hall in honor of the visiting ladies. No trouble had been spared to make the affair a success and the hall was in gala array.

The reception room hung a large basket of ferns from which strands of greenery trailed away very effectively into all corners of the ceiling. The Danish and American flags were conspicuous everywhere and the red and white colors of the society were used in every conceivable way.

Guests were cordially greeted by Mesdames Jacobson, Th. Aarstrup, E. E. Ludvigsen, Hjord and L. Anderson, and were welcomed in a graceful little speech made by Mrs. Haselbalch, the president of the committee.

The same idea in decoration was carried out in the dining room, where the most delectable refreshments were served and the whiteness of the snowy table linen was accentuated by large vases filled with scarlet carnations and ferns. A bevy of the cordial hostesses saw that none of the guests lacked refreshment. Mrs. H. Graf as chairman of this committee was ably assisted by Mesdames Tarran, Jorgensen, Walter Smith, Misses Graf, Jorgensen, Tarran and Haselbalch. Tillsen's orchestra furnished lovely music all the afternoon while several hundred ladies called.

A rough sketch of the entertainment of the ladies during the week includes a picnic at Zapp's Park today, an entertainment at the Barton Opera House in the evening, this being planned by the direction of Mrs. Th. Aarstrup, a banquet on Thursday evening (including the delegates), for which plates will be laid for a thousand guests, at Recreation Park, an automobile ride through Fresno and the surrounding country, and on Saturday a large ball is planned and will be given in the skating rink at Recreation Park.

The two secretaries of the Young Women's Christian Association, Mrs. Shields and Miss Houston, will entertain in a delightful informal way tonight, having asked all the teachers and the presidents of the various Sunday schools.

BUFFALO BILL WILL NOT PARADE
He Will Confine Himself to Giving a Perfect Performance Without a Street Parade—This Will Be His Farewell.

The announcement is made that Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East will not give a street parade on the day of exhibiting in this city. There are several reasons for the decision, but the principal one is found in that fact that the horses and men give an improved performance when they are not compelled to parade in the hot sun or disagreeable rain for a couple of hours. It is furthermore advanced that delays in transporting an organization of the magnitude of the exhibition often prevent the organization from arriving in town until late, and the work of transferring the paraphernalia to the show grounds requires the united forces of the company in order that the afternoon performance may not be delayed. It would seem, in that event, that it would be more advisable to care for a proper presentation of the exhibition rather than to divide the forces into parade groups and take them away from the places where they are most needed. By eliminating the street cavalcade the riding stock and performed way tomorrow, the management is giving the important duty of giving a high class entertainment, enlisting the best of their ability and returning to the public the full benefit of their talents, to which they are entitled. Still another factor which has been considered by the management is the inconvenience of the merchants of the various cities visited by Col. Cody and his cohorts. Street traffic is delayed and business generally is discontinued and upset. Municipal governments have in many cases recognized this fact by either refusing to give licenses for parades or by making the tax prohibitive. Many other reasons could be advanced, but it seems the best established fact that the public is more entitled to a perfect performance than they are to witness a street parade. It must be remembered, however, that the movement of the paraphernalia of the Wild West exhibition from the train to the grounds will, of itself, constitute a parade of more interest than any other organization can offer. It will constitute a sight of more interest and will continue the public that a parade, such as usually has been featured with exhibitions of this class and magnitude, is unnecessary. When the weather permits Buffalo Bill will drive through the principal streets preceding the performance to convince the public, by his appearance, that the old scout is still in evidence, ready to appear in the saddle twice daily, and at every performance, and regretfully bids his patrons adieu.

SANTA FE INSTALLS 18 PRISONERS DISCOVER HOUR FREIGHT TRAIN TO SAN FRANCISCO

New Daily Service Arranged for Cattle and Fruit Shipments Here.

Iced Car for Small Shipments During Warm Spell Announced.

A new freight train has been added to the Santa Fe schedules, connecting Fresno with San Francisco, particularly for the benefit of stock shippers, although the new train also will be of benefit to shippers of perishable freight such as butter and eggs. It is planned by this to have an eighteen-hour schedule between the loading point and the markets in San Francisco.

The present arrangement, whereby the freight is taken to Stockton where it waits over night to be forwarded next day will be replaced by the new train, which will have refrigerator service when the business warrants it. The present service of course is supplemented by the through Eastern freight train, but as these frequently arrive from three to ten hours ahead of time, they cannot be made the basis of plans in advance by shippers.

The new train will leave Bakersfield at 6 o'clock every morning. It will arrive here at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and will leave at 2 o'clock. The train will pass through Merced at 5:30 p. m., and arrive at Stockton at 9 p. m., leaving the last city at 10 for Point Richmond. The train will arrive at the Santa Fe terminus at 3 a. m., and will then be ferried across the bay for delivery at the team tracks or elsewhere at 7.

It is expected that this train will be of great service to the butter, egg and perishable fruit shippers, as well as to the cattle shippers. In the hot season a refrigerator car will be added in which small shipments, ten pounds if desirable, will be taken for city consignments. The train will make an eighteen-hour schedule from here and according to announcements. Typical freight rates are 50 cents per hundred for butter and eggs in less than carload lots, while the livestock rate is about $45 a car.

INSANE MAN IN MIDST

Unfortunate Victim Eats Soap and Does Many Other Strange Things.

Inmates of the "holdover" tank in the county jail received quite a scare yesterday when they discovered that a well developed case of insanity was in their midst, and it was not until the sheriff's office had removed the inmate prisoner to the insane ward that they moved about the tank with any degree of safety.

John Carlson is the name of the man who is insane and he came from Linton. He was brought to this city by a Linton officer and booked as a vagrant although it was stated at the sheriff's office yesterday that the officer knew Carlson was insane when he brought him in. Carlson seemed to be perfectly rational when he was placed in the "holdover" tank and it was some time before he began to show signs of derangement.

Eating soap seemed to be his favorite hobby and for a time yesterday the inmates of the "holdover" tank were in danger of losing all their soap. Carlson rolled cigarettes and placed one between each bar of the tank. He then took off all his clothes and when his cellmates made him do them again he walked around with his pants rolled up to his knees. Carlson was not violently insane but was promptly removed by the sheriff's office to a place where he would harm no one if he became violent.

Joe Martinez, residing at 304 H street, was placed under arrest yesterday by Officers Drenth and Broad and lodged in the county jail on an insanity charge. Martinez has been mentally deranged for some time, but it was only yesterday that he began to show any effects and his relatives deemed it advisable to have him locked up before he could do any violence.

FATAL GUN ACCIDENTS.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Cruente Martinez was accidentally shot through the heart by his brother Julian yesterday. The latter was showing a new rifle, and while he was having some trouble in opening the breech the bullet was discharged.

Thomas J. Canty was cleaning a .22-calibre rifle at his home in the presence of his wife and five children when it was accidentally discharged, the bullet passing through his left lung. He may recover.

MEDICAL SOCIETY WANTS NEW C. OF C. BOOKLET IS HERE FOR DANES

CHANGE IN COUNTY HOSPITAL It Would Install Resident Physician With Corps of Internes.

Suggests Board of Visiting Doctors for Clinic Work.

The County Medical society favors a change in the internal administration of the county hospital and a suggestion with that object in view was made yesterday to the supervisors. The board will further consider the subject when the committee from the medical society makes a second call. In a few days, to learn what conclusion has been arrived at after the consideration of the tentative proposition made.

The visiting committee was City Health Officer Aiken and Drs. Hayden, Miller and Walker. Their proposition is in brief to follow the system in vogue in San Francisco and the other large county hospitals with a resident physician in absolute charge, to install a corps of internes and to have also a board of visiting or consulting physicians co-operate with the resident physician.

The measure was urged among other reasons as an economical one in that it would do away with the present visit by the physician, County physician sample, and his salary, $300 monthly, while the internes would do away with the pharmacist and other paid employees—in short, as claimed, the proposed system would reduce expenses of maintenance with an increased efficiency of service.

It was in this connection urged that the resident physician would have to be a medical practitioner of experience, who necessarily would command a good salary, but who for that salary would be required to devote his entire time to the hospital service and not have a low office following private practice. The internes system would also bring about a saving of expense, the appointment of the resident physician and the formulation of the rules and regulations of the hospital would be a prerogative of the board as now and not to be abridged or curtailed.

The visiting board of physicians, it was explained in general terms, would be named by the medical society subject to approval and would be changed in personnel at stated periods. Its functions would be in the light of a consulting board and to serve without compensation out of the public treasury. It was stated that physicians would readily wish to serve on this board for the sake of the clinic practice that would offer itself in the hospital. In this regard further the suggestion was thrown out that physicians having indigent cases for special treatment or study be permitted to treat them at the hospital, where now they are practically excluded from following up a case, such special treatment at the hospital not to be rewarded by compensation at the hands of the patient.

In the general discussion members of the board and visiting physicians agreed that it is not the intention because it would be highly improper to make a sanitarium of the county hospital for people who can pay for medical service, the institution being intended primarily under the law for indigent sick, wounded and maimed.

Yet another point was permitted to treat them at the hospital, where now they are practically excluded from following up a case, such special treatment at the hospital not to be rewarded by compensation at the hands of the patient.

As before stated the matter was left unacted upon but will be further considered when a full board is in attendance.

REPORTS CATTLE IN GOOD HEALTH

Veterinary Longley Occupied in Looking Up Reported Cases of Glanders.

Veterinary Inspector Longley submits in his report to the supervisors that his time in September was largely occupied in investigating reports of suspected cases of glanders in horses and mules, and in assisting the state veterinarian in examining animals in various localities in the county from which glandered animals have originated.

"Occasionally," says he, "a horse or mule is moved from one locality in the state and later proves to be suffering from glanders. This does not mean that glanders actually exists at the origin of the trip, but may have been contracted en route. It is the policy of the county inspector, working under the direction of and with the state veterinarian's office, to examine into all such cases, and as far as possible to trace the source of the infection. This system has proven effective in limiting the spread of glanders, for the number of cases reported is far below the reports of a few years ago."

Inspector Longley adds that distemper in colts exists to some degree, but the general health of livestock is very good.

W. P. Crawford, the fence rider, reports that "stock appears to be in good condition and apparently free from the Texas fever ticks, although dipping will continue until and including the month of December." Crawford is the quarantine and sanitary officer for Livestock Inspector Longley.

First Shipment of Neat Publication Arrives for Distribution Here.

The first shipment of new booklets for the Chamber of Commerce was received here yesterday, in time for distribution to the people attending the national convention of the Danesh Brotherhood, now in session in this city.

The new booklet is an unusually attractive article, with a cover in four colors, and profusely illustrated with very artistic cuts. The cover design is a view of the gateway of the Danesh Brotherhood, in natural coloring, and the back cover is adorned with a picture of a bunch of emperor grapes, labeled "One of Fresno's Sources of Wealth."

The booklet contains twenty-one half-tone cuts, showing farm orchard, vineyard, winery and mountain scenes, and prominent buildings and views of Fresno city and vicinity.

The reading matter, going into a resume of the resources of the county, takes up in turn natural formation and scenery, diversified farming, grain raising, alfalfa growing, dairying, stock raising, truck farming, poultry, orchard and vineyard industry, fig, olive and citrus fruit growing, lumbering, petroleum, railroad and marketing facilities, and land values. Figures on cost of starting into various lines of industry are furnished, and at the end of the book are many testimonials, telling what various farmers and business people have actually done in the county. Some of them make remarkable showings. The book also contains a brief write-up of each town in the county.

The information in the book is put up in capsule form for the most part, the whole work being contained in thirty-two pages, on the idea that readable facts succinctly told get the best results.

The book was compiled under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce, the writing done by A. J. Wells, and the printing done in San Francisco.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES GAINING STRENGTH WITH EACH DAY

Drew to Open His Campaign in Coalinga, Saturday Evening, Oct. 8.

Democrats Divided on McSwain; Mason Strength Grows.

Energetic personal campaigns on the part of Republican candidates for legislative and county offices have worked wonders in the past two weeks and it is daily being made evident that these candidates of the Republican party are more and more gaining in strength.

The fight for state senator between A. M. Drew, the Republican nominee, and George W. Cartwright, the Democratic nominee, is one of the fights that will be watched with peculiar interest. Outside of some personal work, Drew has been unable to do much campaigning as yet owing to other duties which have been imposed upon him, but he will formally open his campaign in Coalinga next Saturday night when he will outline his position on matters relative to this senatorial district and will show why he should be elected to the senate of the state of California.

From all indications at the present time, W. A. Sutherland will have no trouble whatever in winning the office of assemblyman from the Sixty-first district, as the opposition up to the present time has not apparently developed any great amount of strength.

J. P. Bolton, the Republican candidate for county clerk, is pursuing an active campaign in the city at the present time and reports that the outlook is growing brighter daily. Bolton is making a personal canvass of the voters with good results.

Harry Ray, the Republican candidate for assessor, is another who is making a personal campaign among the voters of the county with beneficial results. Ray is striving hard to win the election and many influences are being brought to bear to bring this about.

J. E. Hoffman, the Republican candidate for county treasurer, and George H. Andrews, campaign for public administrator are both looking exceedingly good to the two candidates. Hoffman's friends already feel assured of his election and Andrews is putting up an excellent fight for re-election to his office.

McSWAIN CANT WIN

"McSwain cannot possibly be elected," said a prominent Democrat yesterday in speaking of the sheriff's fight. "In order for him to win, it will be necessary for him to get the entire Democratic support and 1200 or 1300 Republicans, and he will not have anything like the united Democratic support he needs to win."

FRESNO EXHIBIT AT PECK-JUDAH

Editor Republican.—A letter from Mr. Martin asks the secretary to explain why there is no Fresno exhibit in Los Angeles. I wish to state that Mrs. Martin is entirely misinformed in the matter, because the chamber maintains a very good exhibit there, though not in the Los Angeles chamber. Our experience in keeping an exhibit in it was so unsatisfactory that the directors determined to move it into the Peck Judah Company's quarters in the hope of getting better results, and their course has been justified in the Chicago and New York chambers. We believe the Los Angeles chamber of commerce has always acted honorably in its dealings with outside bodies, and no one who knows Frank Wiggins would believe otherwise, but Fresno has found that so far the traveling public is concerned, the exhibit at the Peck-Judah Company is more effective.

Fresno's Non-Vibrating Gas Engine

Is on Exhibition at the Fair Grounds this week. This is the Engine that was awarded the Gold Medal at the Sacramento State Fair 1910, in competition with the best gas engines of other styles manufactured in the United States

Our display consists of stationary and portable engines and is well worth while seeing, even if you are not interested particularly in such machines just now.

This Engine is "Up-to-Date"

A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and witness the operation of our exhibit.

We can give you estimates covering the cost of pumping plants while you are on the Fair Grounds.

Compare These Weights With those of Other Styles

5 H. P., 600 lbs.; 10 H. P., 1100 lbs.; 20 H. P., 2100 lbs.; 40 H. P., 3200 lbs.

The regular equipment of our engines includes a Schebler carburetor, Bosch magneto and multiple sight feed oiler with bar lever. Such an equipment is not equaled by any other gas engine now on the market, and is only a small part of the many superior features of the Morton gas engine.

The economical operation of our engines appeals very strongly to users of any kind of engine, and for the benefit and information of those who are not yet owners of one or more of these machines we wish to here call attention to the fact that these engines using distillate at 9c per gallon will furnish power at less than electricity when the rate charged therefor is 1 1-4c per kilowatt.

We make pumping plants a specialty.

BEEETLES CLEAN UP INFESTED VINEYARDS

Mealy Bug Damage on 1000 Acres Is Stopped by Philippine Parasite.

About 1000 acres of grapes were badly infested with the mealy bug, in fact, so bad was the fruit that its shipment for table purposes looked hopeless, says Horticultural Commissioner Schell in his report of activities for September.

This bug, he declares, secretes a honey-like substance which covers the vines and fruit and when packed causes an early rotting of the grapes. A committee of the state board of agriculture in these vineyards colonies of cryptogamus articulatus, a small beetle, which he procured in the Philippine Islands. They have worked on the pests until the damage has been stopped and fear is no longer felt in regard to its control, as the assurance given by the commissioner.

Legal notices have been served on a city and on a county property owner to clean up printers and if the order is not complied with the commissioner gives warning that he will proceed to do the cleaning up and charge for the work will become a lien against the property.

Most of the nurseries have been inspected and as far as the viable part of the stock is concerned found to be in good healthy condition and free from insect pests and diseases.

THE EDUCATION TO FORCE WORK ON HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

To Serve Contractor 3 Days'
Notice; May Finish the Job Itself.

Three New Teachers Assigned; Russian Quarter Schools Full.

The city board of education last night voted to serve three days' notice on J. G. Simpson, the contractor who is handling the work on the new high school building, that construction, which has been dormant, must proceed. At the end of these three days, under the terms of the existing contract, the board may take up and prosecute the work for itself. A telegram was last night sent to the Russian Quarter Company, which furnished the bond for the work, stating that the building is not progressing to the satisfaction of the board. This is an opening step toward taking over the work unless there is a certainty that it will now get rapidly.

The high school situation, which has been making trouble for weeks, has now come to an acute stage, owing to the fact that, with many inside timbers in place, the building is yet without a roof, and the rains of the winter are about due. It is said that thirty days, at the least, will be required for putting on a roof, and that great damage may be done the timbers in places if rained on.

The matter was brought before the board last night at the regular meeting in the offices of Superintendent of Schools C. L. McLane, by Chairman P. A. Homan. He stated that work on the building has been dormant for the last week, and there was nothing doing yesterday. The work, he said, is sixty days behind where it should be to get the job through in contract time. He read a letter that he had written to District Attorney Denver R. Churcho.

Talks on Teeth
By REX DENTAL CO.
(INCORPORATED.)

Teeth all Gone

One of the many cases that came to our attention some time ago was that of an old gentleman who came to one of our offices in the month of January of this year to have a set of ALVEOLAR teeth put in his mouth. We require two or more teeth in either jaw before we will undertake the work and guarantee it. We don't ask that the sound of even firm in the alveoli, for we cure the cause of loose teeth, the much-forgotten Pyorrhea. (We believe we are the only dentists in the world who claim to cure this disease.)

But this man had nothing left but some stumps, and he had been suffering with his dentures for a gold plate. We made him this proposition, viz., that we would put in the ALVEOLAR teeth at our regular price, and if they were not successful we would remove them and make him a gold plate free of charge at any time in the future. He was delighted with the proposal and agreed to it instantly, retaining the teeth we were the "whitest" people he had ever come across in the dental business.

The latest report from him is that we don't need to worry about the gold plate, for his new teeth are as firm as a rock, and he is getting all the free advertising he possibly can.

The reason we mention this case is to show that we are strong believers in the "Square Deal," and just as particular about guaranteeing satisfaction as any merchant in Fresno.

We sell you a set of teeth and guarantee that they will satisfy you. The guarantee is backed by ample capital, and is perfectly safe in making it, and always do make it.

The ALVEOLAR METHOD is a new departure, a change from old methods of supplying missing teeth. The old way was a horseshoe partial plate or a bridge, which was anchored between the teeth and tortured the wear from the time it went in until it had destroyed the teeth it was anchored to and had to come out.

Both methods are now supplanted by the ALVEOLAR METHOD, which supplies all the missing teeth and gives the one who has them a set of teeth that are as satisfactory as NATURE'S. The work is painless and permanent. FREE TO YOU. We want to send you a beautiful little book describing all diseases of the mouth. Send today.

Preferably we would rather have you call and have your teeth examined.

setting forth the facts and asking the advice of the attorney. Then he read a letter from "Church, advising him that under the terms of the contract, the board can take up the work, furnish labor and material on its own account, after serving three days' notice to the contractor. He advised the serving of this notice and the notifying of the bonding company involved of the state of affairs. This opinion was written yesterday.

On motion of trustee W. J. Kirtland, the action advised was taken.

Homan stated that he had talked with the contractor, and had had the statement made to him that the work was being delayed because of the delayed delivery of some 1-2 inch iron rods used in the roof work.

ASSIGN TEACHERS.
Owing to the overcrowded condition in the schools of the Russian quarter of the city, many more teachers were assigned to duty yesterday morning. The assignment being ratified by the board last night, Miss Jessie Kenyon and Miss Rebecca Helen Stahl were put on duty at the Lincoln school.

On presentation of facts of overcrowding at the Webster and Jefferson schools, made by Superintendent McLane, it was decided to rent a room at the Capitol mission in the east part of the city, and establish an overflow second grade there, for the relief of the two schools involved. The grade will be in charge of Miss Beugelline Ellis, who has been notified that she will be used here, and will arrive in Fresno next Monday. The grade will be established at that time.

The situation in the Russian quarter is causing a good deal of comment now. With new rooms provided in the recent addition to the Jefferson school, and four rooms in the old Kirk school building, in the same quarter of town there are now twenty-one school rooms in this section, and all crowded to the limit, with more children applying for admission.

The school board is rather inclined to watch the growth of the infantile population in the southwest end of town with astonishment, as special efforts in the general enlarging of the school capacity of the city have been expended there.

MAY HAVE NIGHT SCHOOL.

The board last night informally took up the matter of the establishment of a night school here, and decided that the step would probably be advisable if enough people desiring to attend such a school could be found. The matter will be announced in all the schools, and the request made that any person desiring the establishment of night school notify Superintendent McLane. There has been some call for this sort of thing, and it has been considered since last spring, without any action being taken on it.

Taking up the question of paying part of the salary of an assistant health officer in return for a definite part of his time, under the direct supervision of the school board, the trustees decided to leave the matter in the hands of President P. A. Homan. The proposition is to have the city pay a part of the salary of an assistant health officer, and the city pay a part, the services to be definitely divided in accordance with an agreement yet to be made. It is felt that the services of such an officer are needed, and the sentiment last evening was for the proposition.

The board will look into the matter of buying about a dozen fire extinguishers in the near future, as some of the buildings are in need of additional equipment of this kind.

A committee consisting of J. E. Dickerson and George L. Warlow of the Fair association, was present to ask the board to declare tomorrow afternoon a holiday, in order to allow school children to attend the fair. The board voted unanimously to do this, the following Wednesday is a holiday, "Discovery Day."

HARD-WORKING ACTOR
SCORES NATIONAL HIT
Walker Whiteside "Arrives in Zangwill's Play,
"The Melting Pot."

Walker Whiteside, the remarkable young actor, credited with a genius not to be met with often on the present day stage, will be seen at the Barton Opera House, Friday, October 7th, as the star of Israel Zangwill's "The Melting Pot," the most successful and widely discussed play the celebrated Englishman has ever had produced.

In Whiteside there is a combination of gifted artist and a man endowed with a plentiful supply of "horse sense." After an early triumph in "Hamlet," Whiteside was showered with praise and adulation that would have turned an ordinary head. No less a critic than the late Nyo Crinkle called him the actor of the future. All sorts of things were promised him by managers eager to secure the services of an actor so admired and so well advertised, but Whiteside had mapped out a plan for his own career. It was to be a plan of his own estimation of his talents was not amply, yet he knew perfectly well that these talents at once applied to important roles in important productions, without having first thoroughly drilled in the school of experience, would not amount to much.

So, investing his "Hamlet" earnings in some stock scenery and properties, he organized a company of players and for fifteen years he played in the middle West. One after the other he staged all of Shakespeare's notable plays, and in the process he had a drama of his own construction. It is rumored, too, that he wrote good plays. So year by year his art developed. At last, Whiteside came to the conclusion, one day, to face the larger public. Coming to New York, he was eagerly accepted by Liebler and Company, under whose managerial direction he chose to make his debut. These managers assigned him to the leading role in Mr. Zangwill's greatest play, "The Melting Pot."

Appearing in a play of national import, a play that aroused a President, and a cabinet minister, together with a host of the biggest men and women in the world of politics, arts and letters, and a countless clergy, he played with an unbroken and unprejudiced degree of enthusiasm. Whiteside has kept his head above the play and each tribute to the splendid drama has called forth another for his gifted star. Liebler and Company have surrounded Mr. Whiteside with an admirable cast of players.

ELLEN BEACH YAW.

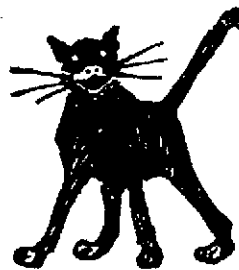

"The American singer," says Ellen Beach Yaw, who is soon to appear in a brilliant and varied program in Fresno, "is the greatest chance of any singer in the world today."

In the language of a famous humorist, too many fingers of the mother country have their future behind them.

That is, they are handicapped by tradition, their teachers are only in the past, their greatest composers are history, even their greatest singers have departed this life.

Forty-one warrants drawn on the county treasury for a total of $441.25 were ordered cancelled yesterday by the supervisors and the county has been enriched by that much. The warrants were in favor of indigents, and have remained in the auditor's office unclaimed for many months. The claimants in whose favor the warrants were originally drawn, monthly are named Louise Bushell, Elizabeth Langley, Lizzie Chapin, S. R. Fleming, Conrad Haberman, Olive Worth, Mary Wobler, Mrs. M. Wells and E. J. Weber. To collect back claims on the warrants cancelled yesterday, the auditors will have to ask the indigent list, if their circumstances warrant it. The cancellation of the above warrants also involved the striking of the names of the bounty recipients from the indigent list.

CATARRH A SYSTEMIC BLOOD DISEASE

Catarrh is not merely an affection of the mucous membranes; it is a deep-seated blood disease in which the entire circulation and greater part of the system are involved. It is more commonly manifested in the head, nose and throat, because of the sensitive nature of these membranes, and also because they are more easily reached by irritating influences from the outside. The symptoms of Catarrh, such as a tight feeling in the head, nose stopped up, throat clogged and dry, hacking cough, etc., show that the tiny blood vessels of the mucous membranes are badly congested and inflamed from the impurities in the circulation. To cure Catarrh permanently the blood must be purified and the system cleansed of all unhealthy matter. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head, goes down to the bottom of the trouble and makes a complete and lasting cure by PURIFYING the blood. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, the head is cleared, breathing becomes natural and easy, the throat is no longer clogged, and every unpleasant symptom of the disease disappears. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and for this reason is the most certain cure for Catarrh. Book on Catarrh and medical advice free to all who write.

ENTHUSIASM FOR HIRAM JOHNSON EVEN SURPASSES PRIMARY SPIRIT

From All Parts of State Come Predictions by Leaders of Landslide; Estimated Majority in Fresno County Conservatively Placed at 2000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—All reports received at the state headquarters regarding the progress of Hiram W. Johnson's tour in his gubernatorial campaign indicate that his reception has been more enthusiastic than during his recent previous campaign. Beginning at 11 a. m. he has already covered in his automobile tour the northern counties, the San Joaquin Valley, and is now in the South.

Telegram received both from Mr. Johnson's party and from independent sources at Merced, show that the Stockton meeting was one of the most remarkable ever held there. More than a thousand were turned away. His trip down the San Joaquin Valley was a series of ovations, culminating in the magnificent reception in Fresno Friday night.

At the close of the Fresno meeting, Johnson and his party took the "cow train" for Los Angeles, and until Wednesday will be in charge of the Los Angeles county committee. Elaborate preparations have been made for Mr. Johnson's reception at Los Angeles, San Diego, Riverside and other points on the southland.

Mayor Lessor, chairman of the state committee, who is in present in Los Angeles, stated that the Johnson campaign has increased ever since the state convention. At the wonderful Pinchot-Kent meeting only 1,000 people were turned away. There is every indication that the Johnson Los Angeles meeting will be the greatest of the campaign, and that the vote will be carried over by a landslide.

Enthusiastic reports from various counties relative to the uprising in behalf of Hiram W. Johnson, Republican candidate for governor, makes the prediction safe that Mr. Johnson's sweep of the state will be even more remarkable than his primary campaign.

S. V. Wright of San Luis Obispo, in a letter of September 27, estimated that Johnson will carry San Luis Obispo county by 150. Four years ago Bell carried the county by over 100.

T. S. Hudson of Watsonville, in a letter of September 27, states that Monterey county will have a safe margin for Johnson.

Charles H. Howell of Fresno, in a letter of September 27, states that Fresno county will have a margin of 2000 votes for Johnson. Prominent Democrats concede the county to the Republicans by 1500. Four years ago Bell carried Fresno county by 600.

Mr. Howell states that from personal observation in Kern county he is satisfied Johnson and the Republican ticket will carry that county. Bell carried Kern four years ago by 400.

H. S. Tilley of Downsville, in a letter of September 27, states that Johnson will carry Sierra county by 150. Four years ago Bell carried Sierra county by 150.

A. E. Boynton, in a letter of September 27, states that Johnson will carry Butte county by not less than 100. Four years ago Bell carried Butte by 700.

W. B. Charles of Hanford, in a letter dated September 26, states that Johnson and the entire ticket will receive a large majority in Kings county.

George W. Jones of Fresno, in a letter dated September 26, estimates the majority for Johnson in Fresno county at not less than 2,000.

The editor of the "Reporter" at Vacaville states that Johnson and the whole Republican ticket will surely carry Solano county. Four years ago Bell carried the county by 875 votes.

A. E. De Lange of Sacramento, in a letter of September 26, estimates Johnson's majority in Sacramento county at between 1500 and 2500 votes. Sacramento was strong for Bell four years ago, giving him a plurality of over 1,000 in a total of 10,500 votes.

Wallace Rutherford, writing from Napa, states that Bell's strength in that county is far less than four years ago. In 1906 Bell carried Napa by nearly 2 to 1 in a total of 3,000 votes.

Rodney L. Thompson of Santa Rosa, writes that Johnson will carry Sonoma county by 1500 and gives statistics on which he bases his estimate. Bell carried Sonoma four years ago by 100.

Francis V. Keesling, who was a candidate for the nomination for lieutenant-governor in the primary campaign, is an earnest supporter of the entire Republican ticket, and is especially interesting himself in the candidacy of A. J. Wallace for lieutenant-governor.

Mr. Keesling spoke at the Pinchot-Kent meeting in Los Angeles, September 26th, and was received with enthusiasm. In his talk there he called attention to his candidacy for nomination in the following words:

"Last primary I had a first and second choice of candidates for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor; my second choice was Mr. Albert J. Wallace; modesty forbids me to mention my first choice."

"The voters of the Republican party have decided that the second shall be first, and I not only abide by that decision passively, but actively; and hope to change the services of the 61,000 or more who complimented me at the primary elections, not because I happened to be from Northern California, but because they were my friends, and friends of my friends."

Mr. Keesling further spoke of loyalty for the entire state, both north and south of Tehachapi, and complimented the people of Southern California on their earnestness in behalf of the state's enterprises and upon their interest in the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He had intended to speak at the Berkeley meeting last night, but was unable to do so on account of unexpected business engagements of the utmost importance. He expressed himself today as extremely sorry that he had been unable to accompany Judge Wallace at the Berkeley meeting, but stated that it was his intention and earnest desire to assist the candidate for lieutenant-governor in further meetings in this section of the state.

He accompanied Mr. Wallace during his tour of the district meetings to night and will speak at Martinez, Vallejo, San Mateo and Orville, and at many of the bay points as possible.

CLUBS ORGANIZED.

The organization of Johnson and Wallace clubs in all the Assembly Districts of San Francisco last night indicated a degree of enthusiasm for the ticket which was a surprise even to the most sanguine of the state committee members. Clubs were organized in every district in the city and the meetings were both large and full of the fighting spirit in behalf of the entire ticket.

Albert J. Wallace, candidate for lieutenant-governor, addressed meetings in the Thirty-Fourth, Thirty-Seventh and Thirty-Ninth Assembly Districts and carried off a number of more than delighted with the reception, as well as with the eagerness shown among the workers in behalf of a rousing campaign.

Los C. Gates of Los Angeles and Daniel A. Ryan also addressed a number of the meetings and report the same spirit in behalf of a rousing victory.

Francis V. Keesling was obliged to cancel his engagement to speak with Mr. Wallace on account of illness, his physician refusing to permit him to make the rounds.

LOS ANGELES ESTIMATE.

Edward J. Keating, state central committeeman from Los Angeles, writes under date of September 26th:

"In my opinion, our candidate for governor, Mr. Hiram W. Johnson, will receive in Los Angeles county 35,000 votes and the Democratic nominee, Mr. Bell, 15,000 votes, leaving a margin for Mr. Johnson of 20,000. The policy of the present county central committee is to be highly commended and there is every indication of a sweeping victory for our ticket on the 8th day of November."

BUTTE FOR JOHNSON.

George F. Morse of Oroville, state central committeeman for Butte county, in a letter dated September 26th, says:

"The total registration in Butte county is approximately 7500, and the total vote probably will not exceed 6000, of which Johnson should receive more than 3500 and Bell should receive less than 2500. A judging from the present condition of public sentiment, this leaves Johnson a majority of 1000. I wish to state that these estimates are extremely conservative and the more radical here judge Johnson's majority at 1200 and I would state further that a most conservative Democrat in this section, a member of the Democratic central committee, allows Johnson 3500 majority. It is well to remember that Bell carried Butte county by several hundred four years ago."

EMBEZZLER MILLER GIVES NOTICE OF APPEAL IN TWO CASES

Southern Pacific Contests
Damage Suit of Mrs.
Dove Bennett.

Jesse Jansen Is Sued for Unpaid Rent; Shoo Is Anxious to Scrap.

Notice of appeal to the District Appellate Court was given by Attorney T. D. Ingersoll in the two cases of Nelson A. Miller, alias "C. R. Miller," and Judge Church ordered the transcript to be written up for that appeal.

Miller was sentenced to four and six years terms of imprisonment for embezzlement, the one term to begin at the termination of the other. To the transcript of interrogatories put to the defendant at sentence to make up a record to go to the state board of prison directors in the event of a petition for parole or pardon.

District Attorney McGowan, who prosecuted the two cases, asked the following comment yesterday:

"From information gathered from various sources I am satisfied that the defendant, C. R. Miller, is absolutely beyond reform and has been engaged in fraudulent practices to such an extent that he cannot be trusted with the public money. He is a dangerous character and he will commence the same operations. There is pending in the state of Idaho a felony charge against defendant Nelson Miller and the latter."

Judge Church had nothing to add to the above statement and he recommended to make in the premises.

The Carter, the co-defendant, who turned state's evidence against Miller, is under a sentence of two years on one of the charges.

NOT SERIOUSLY HURT.

Answer was filed in the suit of Warren C. Bennett against the Southern Pacific Company for personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Dove Bennett on October 1, 1909, while a passenger on a train which ran in on an open switch near Nielsen avenue and crossed, and in a derailing caused a suit case to fall on her. She sued for $50,000 damages, specifying many injuries, among others that the kidneys were torn loose and that she had to submit to an operation to "anchor" said kidneys. The answer admits that she was injured to some extent in the collision between the train and a freight car and that a suit case in a rack above her seat fell upon her, but it is stated that she sustained only temporary injuries, from which she recovered in a short time.

Moreover the said injury was not caused by any want of care on the part of Frank J. Adams, the locomotive engineer.

RENT IS NOT PAID.

James J. and John Christensen have sued Jesse and Helena M. Jansen for restitution of premises, the upper flat at 1722 J street, also $20 unpaid rent and that the amount found due be applied. The Jansens, it is alleged, rented the premises on March 22, 1910, under a verbal lease at $20 a month from month to month, payable in advance. The rent has been unpaid for July, August and September, and neglect was made to comply by payment.

with the written demand for $60 or possession.

TRIAL POSTPONED.

Judge Church postponed the trial of the case of Susan Preece against the Preece traction company until the 10th of next month. A special venire of thirty talesmen had been issued for the trial of the case postponed case. Mrs. Preece sues for damages for personal injuries and sues in her own name, because she says she has been deserted by husband and is dependent upon her own labor for a livelihood. SHOO WON'T SURRENDER.

The determination of the case was filed yesterday on the motion for a new trial in the celebrated Coalinga case of John Doudell vs. John J. Shoo and others. It is a typewritten document of 262 pages and has been certified to as correct. Judge Church will take up today arguments on the motion to vacate the judgment in the case based on the report of Referee Speed.

COURT NOTES.

Estate of August M. Arnoux has been appraised at $1850, namely $1300 cash, $1500 in two lots in city block 14 and $2000 in land in section 15-14-20.

Justice L. Murdock has sued James W. Murdock for divorce and David Stephens asks for a separation from Ida Stephens because of her desertion.

FEATHERED GAME IS REPORTED PLENTIFUL.

Salmon and Bass Prevented by Low Water From Ascending Streams.

There is no lack of small feathered game, reports the county game warden. Not so as regards fish, however. In his quarterly report to the supervisors, County Game Warden R. E. L. Child, of Chico, informs the board that complaints have come to him of people hunting without licenses, but on investigation he found that they had such licenses and on demand readily exhibited them.

"We have sold about 1,000 licenses up to date," observes Cobb, "so you can readily see there aren't many hunting without a license."

Ducks and quail are reported "quite plentiful," but the quail count is very small as yet in the valley as there have been two hatchings. Ducks also are "quite plentiful" where there is plenty of water.

As to fish, the warden notes that the salmon run was small as the water got low and they could not get up the river and the bass met with the same results, but the fish commission says they will fix the dams next year. There were quite a few bass and perch lost in the ditches as usual for the lack of aeration not being over the head of the ditches.

There were five arrests and three convictions for violations of game laws. D. Marchi and A. Adamson for killing ducks out of season and hunting without licenses were fined $25. The other found guilty for not having a license was Dick Scrivens and he also was fined.

HOSPITAL REPORT.

Patients in the county hospital on the first day of September are the latest to have numbered 121 and in the almshouse 71, admitted 69 and 5, born in hospital 2, died in the two institutions 6 and 1, discharged 86 and 4, still in charge 118 and 71. In the mortality list were John Weber and Jose Valenzuela, aged 85 and 81, natives of New Hampshire and Mexico. They died of senility. Administration expenses were $1,055.32; subsistence cost of hospital $1,738.42 and of the almshouse $275.53. Ten pay patients contributed $238.50.

We have succeeded can only be judged by comparison. You can always find room for one good shirt, so we make this proposition to you:

Step in Here Today and Ask to See That Famous $1.00 Shirt You're Talking About

Then when you get home in the quiet of your surroundings, take out the good shirt that cost you $1.50 elsewhere and lay it along side of the one we sell at $1.00. Somebody's going to learn something about department store saving methods—and it may be you.

SPLENDID CARD OF MOTORCYCLE SPEED EVENTS OPENS THE FRESNO FAIR

MOTOR RACES AT THE FRESNO FAIR SERVE TO INTRODUCE STAR RIDER

Jim Shaw Shows Heels to Crack Local Amateurs; Geo. Wood Beats Art Bradley. Then Turns Professional and Swamps Harry Cogburn.

A splendid card of motorcycle and bicycle speed events held under the auspices of the Fresno Fairgrounds yesterday afternoon. The races were pulled off and each event was a real thrill. The program served to introduce a new star rider to the amateur riders of Fresno. The latest acquisition to the racing scene is Jim Shaw, who won the fourth and seventh races handsomely, leading such crack riders as Marcus McLaughlin, Ed Schleuter, Charley Verbecker and Frank Murphy. Mounted on an excellent Shaver started in the first, fourth and seventh races. In the fourth race, Shaw's machine went back on him and he finished last in a field of four. In the seventh race, Shaw grabbed the lead from Murphy and Verbecker. Shaw won this event by a quarter of a mile.

George Wood, the crack local rider and champion of the San Joaquin valley, turned professional by competing with Harry Cogburn in the ninth race. Previous to his entrance into the professional class with Ben Briscoe and Harry Cogburn, Wood started in the second and fifth events.

Mounted on a twin-cylinder Indian Wood defeated Art Bradley and Ed Verbecker, although Bradley gave him a hard tussle. Cogburn rode a Morkle in the special match race, while Wood was astride an Indian. Wood led his opponent for eight miles when Cogburn caught up and passed George. In the last half of the tenth race the chain on Cogburn's machine snapped and Wood finished the race alone.

Steve Voelek, a dark horse, won the mile bicycle race with Louis Paul second. In the five mile motor paced event Pete Stay came from behind and finished under the wire an easy winner. Voelek was second and Louis Paul third. In the last quarter mile Voelek passed Paul.

Although no track records were broken the races were run off in fast time and the crowd was well pleased with the speed program. The card was one of the best in the history of Fresno and the best ever pulled off under the auspices of the Fresno Fairgrounds. During the race, Ed Schleuter, a member of the San Jose club, was in attendance. No outsiders participated in yesterday's program, but keen rivalry between the local boys made the events exciting and intensely interesting. The first race, a half mile, was won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 1:25. Second race, one mile, won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Third race, one mile, won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Fourth race, one mile, won by Shaw, who beat Murphy and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Fifth race, one mile, won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Sixth race, one mile, won by Shaw, who beat Murphy and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Seventh race, one mile, won by Shaw, who beat Murphy and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Eighth race, one mile, won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Mounted on a twin-cylinder Indian Wood defeated Art Bradley and Ed Verbecker, although Bradley gave him a hard tussle. Cogburn rode a Morkle in the special match race, while Wood was astride an Indian. Wood led his opponent for eight miles when Cogburn caught up and passed George. In the last half of the tenth race the chain on Cogburn's machine snapped and Wood finished the race alone.

Steve Voelek, a dark horse, won the mile bicycle race with Louis Paul second. In the five mile motor paced event Pete Stay came from behind and finished under the wire an easy winner. Voelek was second and Louis Paul third. In the last quarter mile Voelek passed Paul.

Although no track records were broken the races were run off in fast time and the crowd was well pleased with the speed program. The card was one of the best in the history of Fresno and the best ever pulled off under the auspices of the Fresno Fairgrounds. During the race, Ed Schleuter, a member of the San Jose club, was in attendance. No outsiders participated in yesterday's program, but keen rivalry between the local boys made the events exciting and intensely interesting. The first race, a half mile, was won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 1:25. Second race, one mile, won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Third race, one mile, won by Wood, who beat Bradley and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. Fourth race, one mile, won by Shaw, who beat Murphy and Verbecker. Time, 2:45. H. ZIMMERMAN, WHO IS SLATED TO SUCCEED THE VETERAN STEINFELDT ON CUBS' INFELD IN WORLD'S SERIES

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—It is said on good authority that Harry Steinfeldt, the veteran third baseman of the Cubs, will do the bench warming act after the first game with Philadelphia in the world series. Steinfeldt, who has been a member of the team since 1907, is one of the most versatile players in the game today. Since his debut in baseball he has held down every position on the team with the exception of pitcher. With Steinfeldt on third the Cubs' infield will be greatly strengthened.

OPENING BASEBALL SERIES AT FRESNO FAIR TODAY

Brunswicks vs. Bittels the Card; Football Battle Saturday.

With the Brunswicks and Bittels at the opening today, a baseball series of four games will open at the Fresno Fairgrounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon. "Buck" Owens is captain and catcher of the Brunswicks, while Alex Bopp will lead the Bittels. Tomorrow afternoon the Hickmans and Kutters will look on, and Thursday the Brunswicks and Bittels are to battle again. Friday's game is being held in abeyance awaiting word from Sanger and Reddy.

At an early hour this morning a large force of workmen will put the finishing touches on the new diamond at the fair grounds. There is keen rivalry between the local baseball organizations and vociferous cheering should be in order during the progress of the games this week. Each team has its delegation of rooters and these will be on hand daily to cheer their favorites on to victory.

The closing sporting feature of the week will be a football game between the teams of Fresno and Visalia High schools. The game will be played on the new gridiron at the fair grounds. The coming struggle will be for the championship of the valley. Last season, Fresno won the first game, Visalia grabbed the second, and the third was a tie.

For this reason Saturday's game should prove interesting. The supremacy of the two rival schools will be settled for the time being, and large delegations will be present from both schools as a result. An organized squad of rooters will accompany the Visalia eleven and the Purple and gold team will not lack supporters.

The post-season series between the Cincinnati Nationals and the Cleveland American team will start October 11 at Cincinnati. The second game will be played at Cleveland, October 13. October 14 is an open date, and the third game will be played at Cleveland, October 15. The fourth game will be played at Cincinnati, October 16 and the fifth at Cincinnati, October 17.

Brennan of the National League and O'Leigh of the American League will umpire.

Season of Third Big League Will Open April 10 of Next Year.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—A copy of Daniel A. Fletcher's contract for the third major league, which he announced in the first of his series, was given out yesterday. The contract provides a bonus of $10,000 to certain players and also provides that if the players do not report to their teams as per contract they must lose $5000 to Fletcher. The contract also provides that the players must be paid $1000 a month from February 15, 1911, to November 15, 1911. It promises that Fletcher shall deliver to the players a contract with his league before February 10, 1911, in return for which promise they give him an option on their services.

This contract says the season is to open April 10th, and close October 10th. At the time of the delivery of the contract, Fletcher agrees to pay his players the bonus and part of their wages, when said bonus is to be paid from $1000 to $2000. The players promise in writing that he will enter no league or play ball with any organized club on or before February 10, 1911.

FIRST GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES TO BE PLAYED AT PHILADELPHIA

Charley Murphy Loses Toss of Coin to Ben Shib; Opening Date Is Monday, October 17; Announce Eligible Players for Championship Games.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—(Pats) played its part here today at the meeting of the National Commission, when the toss of a coin decided that the first game of the world's baseball championship series between Philadelphia and Chicago, pennant winners of the National League, would be played in Philadelphia. A few moments later the commission announced that the coin would begin at 2 p. m. Monday, October 17th.

It always has been a superstition that the team winning the toss of the first game wins the series. For this reason President Murphy of Chicago was not much disheartened when President Shibe of Philadelphia called the coin at the turn of a hand after today.

The series will be played off as follows:
First game, Monday, October 17th, at Philadelphia.
Second game, Tuesday, October 18th, at Philadelphia.
Third game, Wednesday, October 19th, at Philadelphia.
Fourth game, Thursday, October 20th, at Chicago.
Fifth game, Friday, October 21st, at Chicago.

In case other games are required to settle superiority a fifth will be played October 22nd after a hurried run in a special train from Chicago to Philadelphia, and should another game be required, another train will run in a special train will be made from Philadelphia to Chicago in time to play the sixth game in Chicago, Sunday, October 23rd.

If the series should not be settled by this time, the place of playing the seventh game will be determined by the toss of a coin.
The umpire for the big series will be Huger and O'Day for the National League and Connolly and Sheridan for the American League.

The players eligible to take part in the series are:

Youngsters on the Steps of Europe's Thrones

PRINCE LUITPOLD OF BAVARIA

PRINCE FREDERICK OF DENMARK

PRINCESS JULIANA OF HOLLAND

CROWN PRINCE OLAF OF NORWAY

ELDEST SON OF GERMAN CROWN PRINCE

CZAREVITCH ALEXIS OF RUSSIA

EDWARD OF WALES, HEIR TO BRITISH THRONE

PRINCE LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

SUPPOSE—this is only a very remote supposition, mind—that the monarchs of most of the principal countries of Europe were assembled in one place—at one spot, in fact. Then let us suppose that some international Guy Fawkes were to set off a bomb that would send all the crowned heads to join their forefathers in their respective Valhallas. Do you know that in that case most of the scepters of Europe would come into the hands of mere children, almost without exception youngsters under sixteen, and in some cases mere infants?

Probably never before in the history of Europe have the monarchs, taken collectively, been such young men. It follows as a natural corollary that the heirs to their thrones are still younger, save in a few cases, such as that of King Manuel of Portugal, in which the rulers are unmarried. Should Manuel die his heir would be his uncle, the Duke of Oporto, brother of the late King Carlos, and, of course, considerably senior to Manuel.

Interesting Lot of Youngsters. Taken all together, the little chaps who in the natural course of events will sit on the thrones of Europe are a decidedly interesting lot. There is, of course, the usual tendency to exaggerate their doings and sayings and to ascribe to them a degree of precocity that exists only in the minds of admiring sycophants of royalty. But for many years the tendency in European royal circles has been to rear the children as simply as possible, letting them live their little human lives without untimely insistence on the right and privileges of royalty. Most of the photographs show the princelings as having good times with their toys and their playmates, happily unconscious of the fact that they are numbered among "the Lord's anointed." Especially has this been true of the courts to which the influence of the British reigning family has extended. Queen Victoria's family is unusually prolific, and the large number of little children among her descendants has made for democracy in each little family circle. It is an old truism that children are the only real democrats, and royal children are not exempt from its operation.

Probably an exception must be made of the young heir of the Russian empire. So much in the matters of wealth and power depends on the life of this little son of "the czar" that he is brought up to a full realization of his future greatness. It will be recalled that little Grand Duke Alexis did not make his appearance on earth until after the birth of four sisters. The announcement of his birth sent a thrill of loyal joy from the gulf of Finland to the sea of Okhotsk. Persons who have had the opportunity of acquaintance with the court of Russia have declared their belief that the little fellow, who is now six years old, is being trained very carefully to hold the view that in the future he will shall be supreme and unopposed, without right of interference by dumas or parliaments or other earthly authority. He is said even now to lord it over his mother and sisters and every one else save his father. The latter is said to approve heartily of this method of rearing the czarvitch.

The Kaiser's Little Grandson.

Whether the recent announcement of belief in "divine right" by the Kaiser will make any difference in the course of training of the young heir presumptive to the German throne is not known. But Crown Princess Cecilie, mother of Emperor William's four-year-old grandson—who, by the way, was born on the Fourth of July—is a level headed, able young woman with a keen eye for public opinion and with a regard for the personal popularity of herself, her husband, Crown Prince Frederick William, and her children. The public of Germany is very fond of the little royalties and follows with eagerness the accounts of their doings. Little Prince William Frederick is often shown in the German illustrated papers playing with his little brother, Louis Ferdinand, who is not quite three years old, or in a group with the latter and little Prince Hubert, who is now nearing his first birthday. Prince

William Frederick is a happy, jolly little chap and, of course, a great favorite with his grandfather. The little German royalties are being brought up simply and will be taught trades, in accordance with the rule in the Prussian royal family, which directs the training of its members in useful handicrafts, in order to provide for the possibility of their being compelled to earn their own livelihoods. Each of the Kaiser's six sons is a carpenter or shoemaker or bookbinder or is qualified in some other way to fill a useful place in society should necessity arise. The little Alfonso of Spain, prince of the Asturias, eldest child of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, is a round faced, jolly little chap of three and a half years. He resembles his mother, who was Princess Ena of Battenberg and is a niece of the late King Edward. The little fellow, whose picture in military uniform is especially "cute," has a brother, Prince Jaime, two years old, and a little sister still younger. Recent pictures of the two boys showed them paddling on the seashore in charge of their governess, and they looked exactly like two American "kids" of the same age having a good time with spade and bucket. They are being reared simply and quietly, according to the English tastes of the queen.

Great Britain's Heir No Longer a Child

Edward Albert, prince of Wales, heir apparent to the throne of Great Britain, is a long way out of the little child class. He is almost a young man, being in his seventeenth year, and he is said to show in his manly bearing his realization of the responsibilities that came upon him with the recent death of his grandfather. He will soon be invested formally by his father with his rights and privileges as Prince of Wales. A revival of the old time picturesque ceremonies is to take place in Wales, his titular principality. Unlike many princes of Wales of the past, the present holder of the title is close and intimate friend of his father, who keeps the youth with him as much as possible. King George is a skillful by training and chose the same career for his eldest son. There are four other princes and one princess in the present British royal family.

In Great Britain's neighbor across the North sea, the Netherlands, the hopes of the royalists are centered on little Princess Juliana, whose birth brought such smiles to the faces of the Dutchmen a little more than a year ago. It was not without good cause that the people of Holland and the other Dutch provinces desired the appearance of an heir or heiress to their greatly beloved Queen Wilhelmina. She was the last of the historic line of Orange, and, failing an heir to her, the country was destined to fall into the hands of a German prince whose interests might fairly be presumed to coincide with those of the court of Berlin. Patriotic Dutchmen wish to keep their autonomy and their interests free from German entanglement, and they see in Princess Juliana the embodiment of their hopes. The heir to the throne of the Belgians is Prince Leopold, a very handsome, bright looking little fellow who will be nine years old in November. He inherits much of the beauty of his mother, who was a Bavarian princess. Prince Leopold is named after his granduncle, the late King Leopold. Prince Olaf, the Royal "Cut-up."

Turning to the Scandinavian countries—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—we find one son of a king and two grandsons filling a good share of the public attention. They are Prince Olaf, only son of King Haakon of Norway; Prince Frederick of Denmark, son of Crown Prince Christian, and Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden, son of the crown prince of the same name. The princes are, respectively, seven, eleven and four years old. The foreign illustrated papers have devoted much space in the past to Prince Olaf, who is said to be the sunniest, brightest little scion of royalty in Europe. Judging from many accounts of his doings, he is a regular "cut-up." He is a great favorite in England, the former home of his mother, who was Princess Maud of Wales, daughter of the Prince of Wales (afterward King Edward VII.), before her marriage to Prince Frederick of Denmark. The latter became King Haakon of Norway when that country separated from Sweden in 1905. Prince Olaf is almost without a rival for first place in the affections of his grandmother, Queen Mother Alexandra.

The crown prince of Italy is Prince Humbert, third child and only son of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena. He is a dark eyed, bright faced little boy of six, who is being brought up in the simplest fashion possible by his mother, dearly beloved of the Italian people for her solicitude for their welfare. Her son shares her place in the affections of the people of the peninsula. Among the other little royalties of Europe of whom one finds frequent mention in the foreign journals are Prince Boris of Bulgaria, the sixteen-year-old son of the new czar, and Prince Luitpold of Bavaria, great-grandson of the very aged Prince Luitpold, regent of Bavaria.

Children Who Will Become Monarchs

They Answer to "The Call Of the Bugle and the Drum"

THERE may be in the United States other families with military records equal to that of the Ishlers of Elizabethtown, Lancaster county, Pa., but if there are they are unknown to fame and the makers of the reference books. Furthermore there seems to have been in American history only one family with a record worthy of comparison with that of the Ishlers. That family is the famous "Fighting McCooks" of Ohio. In some respects the McCooks surpass the Ishlers. In others the Ishlers have a shade the better of the McCooks. We shall tell the stories of the two families and let the reader decide.

FATHER ISHLER AND FOUR OF HIS SONS.

Claude Arthur Ishler, sixth and youngest son of Harmon Ishler, has just enlisted as a marine in the service of the United States. He is the sixth brother to enroll himself among the fighting men of the country. Two of the older sons of Harmon Ishler served in the regular army before the Spanish-American war. Milton Ishler, the third son, has a five year record in the marine corps. The fourth son, Harvey by name, saw active service on the battleship Massachusetts for five years, rising to the rank of officer. At the expiration of his term he enlisted in the coast artillery. He is now on his third enlistment in the last named branch of the military service and is stationed in the Philippines. Walter, the fifth son, served a four year enlistment as a seaman. Now comes along the baby son of the family, Claude Arthur by name, who will be a naval musician in Washington. That is surely a record to which one family may "point with pride." Is it not? But there is more. While the Ishlers could base their just claim to glory and national recognition on the works of the present generation alone, the facts related tell part of the story only. There is an ancestral military Ishler record to be considered. In other generations the tap of the drum has thrilled the Ishler blood, and the response has been prompt and creditable. Father Ishler, he who begot the six stalwart sons named thus far in this true narrative, carried a musket for three years in the Union army, using it at Gettysburg and elsewhere. Around the campfires he told his comrades of his father, Henry Ishler, who was off somewhere fighting in the same war, on the same side, and of his grandfather, who smelted powder at Chapultepec and Churubusco and elsewhere in the war with Mexico. When he became tired of recounting his grandfather's and soldier, who was born in 1788 at Ansonburg, Pa., and settled later in Ohio. He died in 1863 from a bullet wound received while fighting against Morgan. No less than nine of his sons served in either the army or the navy, most of them in the latter branch of the military service. All of them won honorable records. Three of them were killed in the war. It would be invidious to choose any of the "tribe of Dan" as having a better military record than any of the others, but the fact may be mentioned that Alexander McDowell McCook, the fifth son of Daniel McCook, reached a higher rank than his father or any of his brothers, being commissioned major general of volunteers in the army and commanding the Twentieth army corps. In March, 1865, his gallant service won him the brevet rank of major general in the regular army. He was the only one of the "Fighting McCooks" to be graduated from the United States Military academy at West Point. Of the "tribe of Dan" the only surviving member is John James McCook, who is a well known New York lawyer and is active in civic affairs in the city and the nation. Before leaving the army, in 1880, this McCook had advanced from the humble place of private in the Sixth Ohio cavalry to that of brevet lieutenant colonel, although he was only twenty years old when the war ended. He was the youngest of all the "Fighting McCooks." He was a friend of the late President McKinley, and the latter invited him to take a seat in his cabinet. The junior branch of the "Fighting McCooks" is known as the "tribe of John." Its head being Dr. John McCook, younger brother of Daniel. Dr. McCook was fifty-five years old when the civil war commenced, but he served for a time as a volunteer surgeon, and he sent his five sons to the front. All of the five and the father escaped death in the war, and the sons lived to become prominent in civil life. There are three sons of Dr. McCook: Henry C. McCook, clergyman, and John James McCook, clergyman, and John James McCook, geologist—are still in the land of the living. The fourth son, Roderick S., a naval commander, died in 1884, and another son, Edward Moody, soldier and former governor of Colorado, died last year. There are, of course, innumerable interesting details of the military service of the McCooks for which space is wanting here. The eighth son of Daniel McCook died at Bull Run July 21, 1861, saying to his father, "I will never surrender."

Probably the south has family records approaching in honor those of the McCooks, but they are not known to fame. The Lees of Virginia offer a case in point. General Robert E. Lee had two sons and a nephew, besides other relatives, in active service in the cause of the south. It is generally known that his father was the famous Revolutionary general, "Light Horse Harry" Lee.

New Air Line Railway From the Middle West to Mexico's West Coast

HE is the Collis P. Huntington and the Edward H. Harriman of the present day and it may well be of the future, say the financial prognosticators. To the middle southwest he is what James J. Hill is to the great northwest. He is Arthur Edward Stilwell, promoter and builder of the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railway, now called the Kansas City Southern railway, and head and front of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway, now under construction. It is of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient that this story will treat mainly, but the writer hopes he will be pardoned if he wanders sometimes to mention Mr. Stilwell. You see, then, runs from Kansas City, Mo., in a direct straight line—about as straight as surveyors could run it—in a southeasterly direction to the port of Topolobampo, soon to be known as Port Stilwell, on the Pacific coast of Mexico, just below the opening of the gulf of California. It traverses the American states of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas and several Mexican states, crossing the Rio Grande at El Oro, Tex. In its course through Mexico it taps the great and rich states of Chihuahua and Sinaloa, through which it passes, and also other nearby states.

The total length of the line is 1,659 miles. The road is completed and in operation for more than 900 miles. Both has the true vision of the empire builder who sees lasting good to the country in the extension of the steel lines of prosperity and hears the epic song of America in the thunderous beat of the driving wheels on the rails. If he acquires a great personal fortune in the process it is only a small percentage of the wealth which he adds to the nation's resources.

This man Stilwell, now figuring so largely in the sublimity of railroad man's computations, twenty years ago was asking people in Chicago to step up to the insurance medical examiner and have themselves measured for insurance policies. From figuring endowments to calculating railroad profits young Mr. Stilwell (he is still one year on the sunny side of fifty) went by way of the finance route. His first big money job was the vice presidency of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Trust company. Later he became president of the Guardian Trust company. Then he projected and built the belt line road around Kansas City. The railroad possibilities of the western Missouri metropolis next caught his roving eye, and he became the leading spirit of the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railway, with a terminus at Port Arthur, Tex. The "Port" part of the name is easily explained, but it may not be known generally that the "Arthur" is derived from Mr. Stilwell's Christian name. There are not many city names that had their origin in just that way. Several years ago, when Mr. Stilwell's natural financial ability was not reinforced by as much practical experience and wisdom as it is now, he lost control of the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf, to a combination of financiers in which, it is said, Messrs. Gates, Gould and Harriman were interested. Later the name of the road was changed to the Kansas City Southern. He had projected that road and carried his ideas to a successful conclusion without the aid of Wall street financiers, and his newest railroad has no branch line running in the vicinity of Wall and Broad streets.

The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient is a remarkably well built road, many novel ideas being utilized in its construction. Its average grades are said to be less than 2 per cent. Its Pacific coast terminus, Topolobampo, which will be known as Port Stilwell, is believed to have the finest harbor on the North American Pacific coast south of San Francisco. It is 700 miles nearer to New York than San Francisco is to the nation's metropolis. The opening of the Panama canal, it is asserted, will enhance to a tremendous extent the value and importance of the business to be done by the new road.

ARNOLD MADAME.

ON THE KANSAS CITY, MEXICO AND ORIENT RAILWAY.

It is not often that he has to refer to the career of a man who has had two railroad termini named after him and possesses the imagination of a writer of epic poetry combined with the genius and ability of a great financier. To get right into "the middle of things," as the old Latin saying has it, will begin by saying that the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway, now being built, is intended to afford the shortest possible railroad route between the Missouri river and the Pacific ocean. To do so it has to cross the international boundary and run part of the way in Mexico, but such little things do not bother a man of Mr. Stilwell's caliber. He probably would cross three or four boundaries or perhaps wipe them out all together if they got in his way. The K. C. M. and O.

within the United States and in Mexico a large portion of the remainder of the line has not only been graded, but the track is also in course of construction and the work is being pushed with rapidity. More than thirty new towns have been settled and established along the line of the road, and it is estimated that no less than 800,000 acres of good farming land have been put under cultivation in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas as a result of the construction of the completed portion of the road. More than 1,000,000 acres of farming land will be tributary to the road between Wichita and the Rio Grande, a distance of 814 miles.

Here is where we digress to say something about Arthur Edward Stilwell. His is the mind that has projected this road, and to him be the honor. He

What Every Woman Should be Glad to Know

The Woman Gardener

Now's the Time to Start Plants for Next Year

THIS is "catalogue weather" for the woman who makes her own garden. With a pile of catalogues at her elbow and seated in a comfortable chair, she may leisurely go over the books and decide what she will buy in the way of plants and seeds to set out now for next year's blooming. There is scarcely a place in the garden that would not adorn. And right now is the time to plant the bulbs. Fairly good soil is needed and a location inclined to be moist, but well drained. The ground should be worked a foot or more deep, and if it is poor manure may be worked in deep so it will lie below the bulbs and not come in contact with them.

The bulbs should be planted at least four inches deep, and the bed may be covered with a light coat of manure as a mulch. Considerable growth will be made in the fall, and next spring and early summer the plants will produce beautiful, fragrant white flowers on stalks three or four feet high. After flowering the plants die down and remain dormant until beginning new growth in the autumn. An established clump should not be disturbed until the plants show weakness or disease.

The gardener, too, who wants to have her own potted plants next spring should get busy and sow the seeds in September and transplant the seedlings to cold frames with good soil. Here they may remain until cold weather, when they should be protected with glass and boards. If kept in a cold frame during the winter they must be given fresh air frequently.

Hollyhocks, larkspurs, columbines, Canterbury bells and perennial poppies may be started from seed at this season and kept during the winter without cold frames by having the seed bed raised so as to insure perfect drainage and mulching the plants with coarse litter just before cold weather.

If you wish to have a strawberry bed which will give a crop next year get small potted plants now from the florist and set them in a bed which has been well worked. Cultivation should follow planting several times; then the plants may be mulched for the winter. A full crop should be produced at the usual season next year, whereas if you waited until next spring you would get no fruit until the following year.

When the garden space is limited and is taken up with flowering plants seeds may be successfully developed in boxes if the latter are kept in the same condition as a garden—that is, out of doors, exposed to sun and wind.

Why Hats Are Fabulously Expensive

THE new hats are high, not only in actual measurement, but the milliner sends in a proportionately high bill for her creations. The question has been asked a thousand times by astonished husbands who pay such a price on a hat. For the milliner's wife pays anywhere from $25 to $300 for her chapeau, and the wife who in the money class tries to keep pace with her more fortunate sister.

Now about the price of hats. In the first place the plain hat of the expensive sort is imported from Paris and costs the milliner from $10 to $25 as against $2 to $10 only ten years ago. This hat, though it follows the prevailing fashion and though this fashion may be ridiculous in the extreme, is nevertheless artistic in line and general form.

Perhaps it is desirable to make the hat a color to match madame's frock. The artist milliner has in her employ a Frenchman whose business it is to color hats any shade or tint. He brings his dyes from Paris, and no American can do this work. And his salary is a large one.

The trimmings and materials for this hat are of course imported also. A seventy-five dollar imported feather may be the principal part of the trimming. Perhaps on a green ground it is decided that pink and blue roses will harmonize best with the wearer's outfit. If these colors are not in stock milliner brings out his dye pots and gets to work. Then one has to pay for the art of the milliner in combining the nuances. And it is a Frenchwoman in the best establishments, too, who does the work on small hats and toques. She has been a worker for one of the famous firms in Paris—for Charlotte possibly, or Georgette or Camille Roger. If her specialty is the sailor hat she has probably been with Marie Louise.

The two hats illustrated are charming Parisian models that are not extreme, but at the same time are very chic. One of the creations is of old green velvet trimmed with dark bronze green coq plumage. And the other hat is one of the new soft fluffy felt shapes. It is bound with velvet and has a mount of choice coq feathers in front.

Walking Good For Women

Walking is one of the best autumn exercises. It develops almost every muscle in the human body. What is more, it is fashionable to walk, and the fad is to swing along a smooth country road, breathing the fresh air and getting an outdoor wind bath. Teachers, physicians and parents are encouraging the fad with all their power. It is a wholesome, inexpensive and healthful method of exercising. Although the popularity of walking as an exercise is assured, women differ as to their ideas of pedestrianism and the practical side of it.

AS SHE HOBBOLES, BOBBLES AND WABBLES ON FIFTH AVENUE

HOBBOLE, hobbles, though with a toll and trouble, but what matters it, says the wearer of the fashionable hobbles skirt of the moment, if you're the cynosure of every eye as you go your way on the great fashion parade of New York city—Fifth avenue?

Yes, madame and mademoiselle surely are in the public eye when they don their attenuated jupes and hie themselves abroad. But are they an optical delight or a hideous sartorial spectacle?

It's Parisian, so chic and all that. Is it? Listen.

Paris dressmakers lay the blame of the hobble skirt entirely on Americans. They repudiate it as an offspring of their stellers and say that the "exotic fashion" came from New York. Gotham dressmakers suggested the idea and asked Parisian manufacturers to turn the skirts out for sale in this country.

The Parisians insist that they protested against such a skirt, but yielded to the dollars that were flashed before their eyes. The Parisians now say that the skirt is not fashionable. They point to the race courses and promenades in France, insisting that the hobble is not found there.

One might just as well ask a pretty girl to wear a mask as a "hobbler." It changes the gait, causes a stoop and is a costly, unnecessary and ugly creation that ought to have been kept in the attic of the Rue de la Paix.

And there is another side to the hobble skirt question. How is it going to affect the great problem of the hour—woman's suffrage? The movement means a complete tieup for the suffragettes. The speed of suffragette parades will be cut down to such a low rate that all public officials will have ample time to make a very comfortable getaway from the rear entrance of their official homes and escape to some and fountain long before the head of the column has reached the front door, and the leading ladies will have to spring their assortment of well chosen demands on a few empty official chairs.

Then the rush will be over, and that is how the blow will fall.

There is the domestic side of the situation. The fashionable maidservant upon being asked why she stayed out after 10 o'clock has a perfect and inalienable right to say:

"I'm sorry, ma'am. It's the fault of this new skirt. I had to take such small steps that it took longer than I expected."

Now, what do you think of that, Mrs. Housekeeper?

The latest hobble historians blame the famous old green umbrella of Horace Greeley and his manner of carrying the rain protector—ferrule side up—and its frou-frou of surplus sections caught in a foot from the tieup hand as its inspiration. So it does look as if America is to be saddled with the hobble idea, doesn't it?

Women have been dressed so impossibly the past year that perhaps this mode will be the grand crescendo of things.

Wait, too, until Teddy has time to attend to it, and then—

Whiz, bang, out it goes!

A New Era In Kitchen And Household Inventions

THE housekeeper who does not keep up with the times in kitchen and other household belongings would have opened her eyes with astonishment could she have seen the display of new things at the household show recently held at the Madison Square Garden, in New York city. At every turn one saw wonderful improvements on the original vacuum cleaner, and more within

When such a floor is not in good condition the finest furniture does not show to advantage. Every housewife knows only too well what to expect when a handsome floor has been scratched and scarred and many a floor covering ruined as the result of the passage over it of hard, relentless casters. These new softly covered casters are more expensive than the panel effect that is so effective in hall, dining room or library. With one application of stain it can be made to match any shade of oak. Its cost is about one-fifth of wood, and it is cheaply put on the wall.

What would the old fashioned housewife think of a sink and washtub all in one? Such a space saver she probably would scorn, saying: "In my day a sink and some wooden tubs were good to be done at the same time, this invention has its special good points.

Ironing, too, is made easy with an electric iron that heats in less than four minutes and requires no stand, as the usual electric iron does. When necessary to move the garment being manipulated all one has to do is to tip the iron back until it rests on end of handle. The current is turned off from the iron, which obviates the trouble of raising the arm to the cock attached to the lighting apparatus above.

How tired we all become of baker's bread if we have to depend upon it constantly for sustenance! The cry is, though, "Bread is so hard to mix." It used to be, but it isn't now if you get one of the new bread mixers that are so constructed that from one to eight loaves may be mixed with practically no exertion. The mixer is in two pieces of metal and is therefore easily and simply cleaned. In the process of mixing the dough the blades turn in such a way that it forces the moisture into every particle of flour, twisting and pulling it so as to allow the air to get under and into the dough, which develops 100 per cent of gluten from any good flour.

One might go on enumerating the "good things" at the show for hours without exhausting the supply, but mention must be made of the new milk churn which does the work of butter-making in one minute and of the pulley line for clothes that is arranged inside the window. A comfort it is to the timid woman who dreads leaning out the window and a great protection to her in cold weather.

A FEW OF THE LATEST INVENTIONS.

old fashioned metal ones, but the initial cost is small compared to the eventual saving in wear and tear.

Then what woman does not love to plan and carry out, if she may, artistic wall decorations and hangings? And if you are building a new home or thinking of renovating an old one it would be worth while to consider the new wood paper. This is about as near as I can come to a description of the new fabric, which is sold by the running yard. It is used for the English enough for me. It's nonsensical, all these newfangled things." But is it? Not nowadays, when domestic science has made such strides and has become a recognized profession that is taught all over the country and in most women's colleges. Well, for the woman who welcomes innovations in her kitchen there is the combination sink, drainboard and washtub. For apartment kitchens, where space is at a premium and getting about on wash day a problem when the cooking has ing the arm to the cock attached to the lighting apparatus above.

One might go on enumerating the "good things" at the show for hours without exhausting the supply, but mention must be made of the new milk churn which does the work of butter-making in one minute and of the pulley line for clothes that is arranged inside the window. Try a "Peach Roosevelt"

It Will Be One of Your Busy Days If You Do

"Peach Roosevelt"—how does that sound for a dessert? It has just been invented by a cooking expert.

"Peach Roosevelt" is made with fresh peaches. To prepare this delicate tickler properly select the largest and finest freestone peaches you can buy. They must be wholly ripe, but not too soft. Wash and pare them and cut in halves, removing the stones. Then in the place originally occupied by the stone put a tablespoonful of chocolate ice cream in which is blended a blanched almond. Almonds are blanched by soaking them in hot water for a few minutes, then peeling off the brown skin.

Press the two halves of each peach firmly together. Have ready a mound of vanilla ice cream. Place the peaches in this and with a knife smooth the cream all round the peach, making a covering half an inch thick or thicker if desired.

Quickly wrap in waxed paper or cheesecloth, place in mold of ice cream can and keep packed two hours in crushed ice and salt. When ready to serve remove from paper or cheesecloth and sprinkle crushed macaroons over the top.

The main thing to remember in making the "Peach Roosevelt" is to do the work quickly.

What to Make With Oranges

ORANGE OMELET.

TWO oranges, four eggs, five teaspoonsful of sugar, a little salt and two teaspoonsful of butter. Beat the whites of the eggs stiff, add two tablespoonsful of orange juice, the sugar, salt and beaten yolks. Put the butter in a pan and turn in this mixture. When it begins to thicken spread in the orange sliced very thin, no juice, fold over the omelet, take out on a large platter, set in the oven one minute and serve immediately.

ORANGE PIE.

One cup of orange juice, three eggs, two tablespoonsful of flour, one cup of sugar and the grated rind of one orange. Beat the yolks of the eggs until creamy, then add the sugar, orange juice, flour and the grated rind of the oranges. Mix together well. Line medium sized pie plate with paste, turn in the orange filling and bake in a moderate oven until thick as custard and the paste is well browned. Beat the whites of the eggs with seven tablespoonsful of sugar until very stiff, spread on the pie and return to the oven until a delicate brown. Serve hot or cold.

ORANGE CREAM CUSTARD.

Mix one cup of sugar with two and three-quarters cupsful of hot water, set on the fire, add the juice of two oranges, one lemon, a lump of butter, the yolks of two eggs beaten with a tablespoonful of cold water and stirred in slowly, then add one and a half tablespoonsful of cornstarch moistened with two tablespoonsful of water. Stir until smooth and creamy. Serve cold.

ORANGE CREAM CAKE.

Cream together one-half a cupful of butter and one and three-fourths of a cup of sugar, add three eggs, the yolks and whites beaten separately, two cups of flour sifted with two teaspoonsful of baking powder and one cupful of milk. Bake in two layers with the following frosting between: The yolks of one egg beaten, to which add a little orange juice and enough powdered sugar to taste and to make it thick enough.

Table Linen Up to Date.

In the new table linen tablecloths with designs are taking second place. The newest cloth is a plain white damask with a six inch satin border with large monograms embroidered in diagonal corners or at opposite ends. The advantage of these plain cloths is that they show off the beauty of centerpieces and doilies, having no pattern to distract the attention. Striped cloths are also favorites, either plain or with large flowers scattered over the entire length and forming the borders. The poppy and ball pattern is one of the new ones, also the ball and bow-knot.

The round cloths with scalloped edges and napkins to match are much used, the only difficulty being in laundering them at home so they will lie flat on the table.

Madras work in centerpieces, doilies and cloths has ousted lace from popularity. Cloths having the centers embroidered need no centerpiece and are used on polished tables without any undercloth. But lace cloths of the ivory, flax and Venetian variety are very beautiful and still hold their own for ceremonial occasions.

The large dinner napkins are still used at dinners, but the next size is quite as popular. Luncheon napkins are hemmed with narrow hems and are small, designed to be used only once.

NEW MATERIAL FOR FALL SUIT.

A new material coming in for the fall is expected to have a great run in hand-made tailors' shops. The material is smooth and glossy in appearance, with a slight nap that is unlike anything or even a hair, being cut very short, but suggestive of them. It is light of weight and smooth, and gives the fabric of the day, and will be provided in all colors.

MILLARD AND SCOTT ARE BURNED OUT ONCE MORE

Fire Starting in Basement
Guts the Betteridge Building.

CAUSE IS NOT KNOWN
Loss Estimated at $25,000.
Partially Covered by Insurance.

For the second time within six months the store building at the corner of Fresno and Scott streets, occupied by Millard & Scott, grocers, was completely destroyed by fire. The fire broke out at 11 o'clock. The loss is estimated at $25,000, partially covered by insurance. The cause of the conflagration is unknown, but it started in the basement, where there is some oil storage. Millard & Scott's loss was $25,000, while the loss to William Betteridge, owner of the structure, was about $10,000.

When the fire was first discovered smoke was pouring from the basement in all directions, and it was with difficulty that the exact cause of the blaze could be located. An alarm was sent in from box 114 and three engines responded.

The great volume of smoke coming from the building precluded any opportunity on the part of the firemen to work for a short while, but soon lines of hose were run through the doors on the sidewalk, and several streams were turned loose into the raging furnace below.

As the firemen were struggling with the flames in the basement, they found an exit in the rear of the basement and in a few minutes after the engine had started pumping, the roof of the building burst forth into flames. By pumping water into the basement and keeping the doors of the store closed, the firemen were able to keep the fire within the building and not allow it to blaze up to any great extent. Fortune favored the department in this, for a strong north wind was blowing, and had the large work wind been blowing, other buildings in close proximity and adjoining would undoubtedly have met a similar fate.

When the flames finally did work up from the basement, a rear door in the grocery store was broken open and as the air rushed in, the smoke and flames poured out with great force. Lines of hose were immediately turned onto this portion, and within a few minutes the flames had been extinguished. There was much danger attached to the fight at this point owing to the fact that a quantity of oil was right in the fire as it blazed forth. The oil did not explode, however, and hard work on the part of the department kept any future danger from this source.

When the fire got out of the basement, it worked through air shafts, directly to the top of the building, and before anything could be done the entire inside was a roaring furnace. The heavy smoke prevented much effective work on the part of the department, and the peculiar construction of the rooms in the second story made fighting very dangerous, owing to the number of skylights on all sides and the same broken opened the building in a number of places.

The fire lacked the spectacular effect which generally accompanies conflagrations of this nature, but it got in its deadly work, for when the last spark had been extinguished after practically two hours of hot fighting, nothing but the walls of the structure remained to tell what had been there before.

The loss to Millard & Scott on the contents was covered by insurance, but the amount could not be learned last night, as neither Millard nor Scott could be reached. The insurance is held by several different companies, with separate agencies in this city. Millard & Scott had only just put in a complete new stock of goods following a fire less than six months ago, which completely gutted the building at that time.

The building was insured for about $20,000, which will in all probability fully cover the loss.

After the last fire, Betteridge decided to raise the building one story and make it a two-story structure. The first story had been entirely renovated, and the second story, which was to have been used for a lodging house, was ready for the furnishings when the fire broke out last night.

Leon L. De Mott, a member of the firm of Millard & Scott, left the building about 10:15 last night, three quarters of an hour before the fire was first seen, and he did not know there was any fire in the building. He was working on the books all the evening. De Mott was unable to account for the cause of the fire and he stated that he did not know of anything in the basement that would cause a large fire. Scarcely ten minutes before the fire broke out, several parties passing by the building saw nothing out of the way and there seemed to be no indication of a hotbed of fire. The smoke burst forth suddenly and in overwhelming volume when it did leave the basement.

The Harris building, adjoining the Betteridge building on the west, was saved from the fire by reason of the burning structure. Although the flames leaped up from the roof of the Betteridge building, they did not leap with sufficient force to endanger the Harris building.

DANE GRAND LODGE OFFICERS HERE FOR MEETING

Brotherhood's Special Has Poor Connections and Is 9 Hours Late.

HAVE NIGHT SESSION
Parade Opens Festivities;
Mayor Rowell Welcomes Visitors at Hall.

To the stirring, virile strains of "King of the Mountain" and "Hedgehog March," 120 delegates to the grand lodge of the Danish Brotherhood here descended from the belated special that brought them from the East, yesterday afternoon at the Southern Pacific depot. Chairman, due at 1 o'clock in the morning, last delegates in making connections en route, and arrived at nearly a o'clock in the afternoon. Nothing daunted by the delay, the Danes convened their grand lodge, Grand President H. H. Vogt in the chair, last evening at Armory hall. The procession was led by Grand Falkensteden's band.

Mayor Rowell and P. E. Ludvigsen, president of the local lodge of the Danish Brotherhood, occupied the leading automobile. This machine was followed by another carrying Grand President H. H. Vogt of Iowa; Grand Vice President M. Larsen of Wisconsin; Grand Secretary J. Michaelson of Nebraska; and Grand Treasurer Rolf Rasmussen of Chicago.

In a reception line just following came the grand trustees, Fred Petersen of Council Bluffs, T. P. Nelson of Seattle and Henry Gydesen of St. Paul, Minn.

A large delegation from the Fresno lodge of the Danish Brotherhood marched as escort to the grand lodge officers, and the procession included a large number of delegates and visitors to the lodge.

It was estimated last evening that there are some twelve hundred visitors in Fresno. The delegates to the Grand Lodge number about 100.

LADIES HOLD RECEPTION.
Just after their arrival the ladies were taken to the headquarters in A. O. U. W. hall, on Fresno street, near J street, where the Danish ladies of Fresno held a reception in their honor.

At 5:30 o'clock the delegates and visitors to the convention gathered at Armory hall for a short reception. Mayor Rowell extended the welcome of the city to the guests of the week, while President H. H. Vogt, who presided at the grand lodge, spoke in behalf of the local members of the Brotherhood.

Grand President H. H. Vogt responded in behalf of the grand lodge and visitors generally, and after a few more speeches, the meeting broke up for the visitors, weary from their journey, might dine.

GRAND LODGE CONVENES.
The 280 delegates to the Grand Lodge were called to order shortly before 9 o'clock last evening. In order that the program for the week might not be interfered with, Grand President Vogt was in the chair.

The only business of importance transacted was the appointment of the various committees to act for the convention. It is probable that the original program will be adhered to, in spite of the fact that it was at first planned to open the convention yesterday morning.

TODAY'S PROGRAM.
This morning and this afternoon the grand lodge will hold its regular sessions.

In the afternoon, the ladies of the Fresno lodge will entertain the visiting ladies at a picnic at Zapp's park. In the evening there will be a musical entertainment in the Armory hall, with addresses of the visiting ladies. This will be attended by both ladies and gentlemen among the visitors as well as by the Fresno Danes.

The local lodge has established a precedent for the entertainment of conventions by having a corps of automobiles on hand all the time. While there will be special days set aside for some definite trips, it is the aim of the local lodge to have provision for any who may wish to see the surrounding country at other times, if due notice is given. Of course all of the entertainment is extended free of charge.

M. Andrews, missionaries in Arizona, HAVE LATE SESSION.

Shortly before midnight last night the Southern California district conference closed its deliberations, and the delegates and visitors hurried away to their hotels and apartments. The night's sleep before the departure of the Southern Pacific special at 8 o'clock this morning for Los Angeles and other southern points.

The matter of appointments was the principal subject of consideration at last night's meeting. Bishop Hughes and the other members of the Methodist cabinet spent several hours yesterday afternoon and evening considering the appointment of ministers.

Short reports showing that the church generally throughout the southern part of the state has enjoyed great prosperity were given last night.

In recognition of the services of the Ladies Aid Society of the Fresno First Methodist church, the delegates last night voted their society $160. The ladies have provided the delegates during each day of the session with two meals, and the excellence of the reports and the service caused many compliments by those visiting the conference. The ladies also voted $25 to the society as a token.

All conceded that the conference has been one of the most successful held in this part of the state.

Quality, Low Prices and Easy Terms

Professional Skill

Is the important consideration in choosing your optometrist. The plain glass used in a pair of lenses has about the same relative value as the wood used in making a rare old violin.

The skill which fits these crude materials to perform their allotted functions is the element of greatest value.

People who have tried the "cheap"

We offer you the finest optical

FIRE ENGINE COMPANY STOPPED BY WATCHMAN

Refuses to Open Gates at Tulare Street Until After Police Are Called.

An Engine Company No. 3 was coming to the Millard and Scott fire last night, upon reaching the Tulare street crossing of the Southern Pacific it was discovered that the gates had been let down by the tower watchman, although there was no switching at the time. The watchman refused to open them at the command of Captain Willis and it was necessary to call police officers from the Chinatown beat to the scene before the company could proceed on its way to the fire. The action was unprecedented in the history of the local department and it is probable that some action will be taken in regard to the matter.

WANT TO ABOLISH SURPRISE WEDDINGS

Fresno Pastors Consider Movement to Check the Divorce Evil in the State.

The Ministerial Union is considering whether or not it would be advisable to have legal provision for the institution of bans, as used in England, in connection with the marriage service.
The matter came up yesterday morning at the regular meeting of the ministers, when the pastors of the city and vicinity met at the First Ministry, field secretary of the State
Commission on Marriage and Divorce, an organization whose aim is to obtain more stringent marriage and divorce laws in order to check the growing evil of divorce. The changes in the laws which the commission will urge before the next legislature were taken under advisement by the ministers, in accordance with their fixed custom, and will be reported on at their next meeting.

The changes in the laws desired are twelve in number. The most striking innovation proposed provides for a ten-day notice of an intended marriage to be obtained, demand the appointment of a divorce examiner in every county to contest every divorce case, the omission of the words "open and notorious" in the acts pertaining to adultery, and the requiring of all defendants to be represented either in person or by deposition in every divorce trial.
